NEW DRAFT CALL IN N. E.

Battered By Nazi Shells---

Hit 22 times in a battle with a German sea raider, the British auxiliary cruiser Carnarvon Castle put into Montevideo, Uruguay, for repairs . . . its bridge (shown) and hull torn by shells. Note the gun on the forward part of the ship . . . and the shell hole (arrow). Fifty riveters were rushing repairs on the cruiser today so that it may be ready to leave before the 72-hour limit which expires Tuesday . . . and it was reported steel plates taken from the scuttled Nazi pocket battleship Graf Spee were being used.

I. E. CALLS 4371 IN 2D DRAFT

Maj.-Gen. James A. Woodruff, commanding the First Army Corps Area, today issued a second New England draft call.

A total of 4371 draftees in the six New England states will be ordered to Fort Devens between Jan. 3 and 20, Gen. Woodruff revealed.

BRITISH VICTORY IN EGYPT

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 9 (AP)—British forces have made contact with the Italians "on a broad front" in the western Egyptian desert and have taken 500 prisoners in an engagement south of Sidi Barrani, the British African command declared today.

This front has long been dormant, with the British apparently content to prevent the Italians from driving further into Egypt from Sidi Barrani, 70 miles inside the western frontier.

The action was described as between British "advance elements" and the Italians.

The Italians, under Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, drove across the Libyan-Egyptian frontier early in the Italian-British conflict and marched along the coast to Sidi Barrani, with little opposition. From there they have made little important progress for the last three months.

British Report Loss Of Dutch Submarine

LONDON, Dec. 9 (INS)—A Dutch submarine, which has been operating in conjunction with British naval forces, has been lost, it was officially announced today.

The name of the submarine, and details surrounding the sinking, were not given in the communique.

New England is the first area in the country to make the second call. It was the first area to make the first call when 984 young men were summoned for military training.

Massachusetts leads in the number of men called for the second draft—1717. Other states were ordered to send the following:

Rhode Island 638.
Maine 638.
Connecticut 662.
New Hampshire 471.
Vermont 30.

In a letter sent to governors of the New England states, Maj.-Gen. Woodruff said:

"I look forward to the second call being accomplished with the same amount of precision, efficiency and speed with which the first call was fulfilled. These are stirring times. I do not want to be an alarmist, but just this morning's papers brought the war close to our shores with the sinking of a vessel in the Caribbean."

"It is only with the operation of the Selective Service Act and the induction into the army of the United States of our manhood that we are becoming a united nation, proud, unafraid and equal in resources, strength, virility to any nation or combination of nations."

"History shows New England has always been a leader in the nation's progress. I am proud to be the commanding general for the area of six New England States at this time."

The second call draftees, Gen. Woodruff said, will remain at Fort Devens for 13 weeks for basic training. After that time, 867 will be sent to Camp Huie, Tex., and others distributed as follows: 432 to 197th Coast Artillery; 435 to 211th Coast Artillery; 771 to 21st Regiment, Harbor Defense; 311 divided among 68th Coast Artillery at Camp Edwards, Falmouth, and the remainder on service duty for transmission to any section needing men.

British Cruiser's Repairs Are Rushed

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 9 (INS)—Repairs were rushed aboard the shell-battered British auxiliary cruiser Carnarvon Castle today as the 20,120-ton converted liner prepared to put to sea tomorrow afternoon prior to expiration of the Uruguayan government's 72-hour time limit.

Under the time allowance, granted in accordance with international law, the British vessel, which sustained 12 shell hits in a running sea battle with a German raider in the south Atlantic Thursday, must clear Montevideo harbor by 5 p. m. tomorrow.

'On to Valona,' 'Now Battle Cry of Greeks

ATHENS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Fierce fighting beyond Argirocastro was reported today between Greece's advancing army and the Italian rearguard, strongly entrenched to cover the retreat of the main Fascist body to the north and west.

With Argirocastro, last of Italy's southern Albanian bases behind them, Greek soldiers launched into the new, swift follow-up attack with cries of "On to Valona!"

Valona, next Albanian sea gateway for Italian supplies in the Greek path, is about 40 miles northwest of Argirocastro. About midway on that line lies Tepelini, a road junction, toward which the Greeks are fighting from the east and south. Their goal, shouted as a battle slogan, is "Tirana by Christmas!" Tirana is Albania's capital.

In Rome, the Italian high command announced that Italy's 11th Army had withdrawn to a new defense line north of Argirocastro, southern Albania without loss of men or material.—Editor's note.

Capture of Argirocastro yesterday, two days after the fall of Italy's southernmost Albanian port, Porto Edda, touched off a three-day celebration.

Part of the city had been burned by the Italians before they fled, but the amount of captured material was said to be enormous and to include 12 full batteries of abandoned artillery.

After six weeks of fighting, the Greeks have driven the Italian invaders completely from their soil and pushed their own counter-invasion across about 20 per cent of Albania's Italian-held territory.

One estimate several days ago placed the cash value of captured war materials at about $10,000,000. This does not include the booty taken at Argirocastro.

In the drive toward Tepelini, 15 miles north of Argirocastro, Greek cavalry and machine-gun and bomb attacks from airplanes were said to be spurring the Italian retreat.

24-Hour Raid Rips Britain

By CHARLES A. SMITH

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 9—Swarms of German raiders that swept over London for hours on end delivered punch after punch at the great heart of the British capital last night and early today—but once again the city demonstrated that it can "take it."

In its 401st air raid alarm, London reeled under a hammering which experienced observers considered comparable to the heaviest the city has yet suffered.

Nine London hospitals were among the buildings hit. Many new scars were wrought upon the damaged face of the city—including damage to four churches and two hotels.

There were many casualties among the staff and patients of one of the hospitals which received a direct hit. One damaged was a large general hospital; another was a hospital for women.

SEVERAL FEARED TRAPPED
Explosions damaged a Catholic church and an ambulance station. Considerable damage was reported done to dwellings, shops and business buildings.

East of London, near the Thames river estuary, a number of persons were feared trapped in an air raid shelter by a bomb-hit nearby.

A Nazi high command communique said 700 tons of high explosives and 80 to 100 tons of incendiary bombs were loosed on the city during what they described as the mightiest assault yet loosed on London.—Editor's note.

Last night's "all out" attack was feared an alarmless, rainless day which stretched into the darkness tonight, past the usual time for night raiders to approach, and gave the capital respite.

In last night's terrific hammering fires were started in many parts of the capital, but most were doused while the raid was still on.

BUILDINGS CRASH

Crashing buildings, tremendous explosions, wildly leaping flames and a veritable Niagara of falling glass mingled with the cries of the trapped and the injured to make the night a nightmare which at times numbed the stoutest hearts. It seemed impossible that London could recover speedily from such a pounding.

Yet with dawn the capital sprang to renewed life. Pale, grim citizens took up the threads of their accustomed jobs. Trains arrived at London's stations with their thousands of commuters. Green red buses threaded through the streets. Workers jostled each other on the sidewalks.

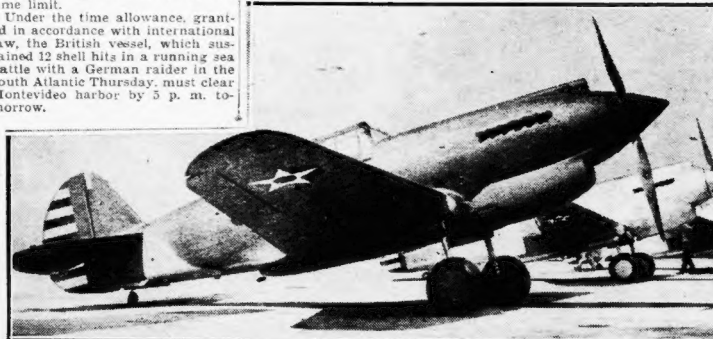

Everywhere London's stores opened up and this more than any.

British Capture French Fishing Boat

VICHY, France, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Petain government announced today that a French fishing boat returning from the Newfoundland Banks with a cargo of codfish had been captured by the British off La Rochelle.

The announcement said a similar boat was torpedoed by a British submarine a month ago and that third had not been heard from for several days.

U. S. PLANES FOR GREECE—Thirty P-40 Curtiss pursuit planes (the type pictured) today had been released by the U. S. government for immediate delivery to Greece. In disclosing this fact, government quarters said less than half the speedy, new fighting craft comprised properly of the U. S. armed services.

FIRE KILLS GIRL, 4; PARENTS HURT IN WOONSOCKET LEAP

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 9 (AP)—Trapped on the fourth floor of a tenement house when fire cut off escape by the stairway, 4-year-old Georgette Sitko burned to death today, and her parents, Stanley and Jeannette Sitko, both 23, were injured seriously when they leaped from windows.

IT'S A BOY

The parents were taken to the Woonsocket Hospital, where their names were placed on the danger list. Fire Chief Augustin J. Cote said his men found the body of the child on a bed in the room from which the mother had jumped.

Edward Rock, a neighbor, said he heard screams from Mrs. Sitko—an expectant mother—and saw her at a bedroom window with the child in her arms. He said he shouted to her not to jump, but a few seconds later she leaped, leaving the baby in the house.

Sitko hung by his fingertips to a window ledge for several minutes before he lost his hold and fell.

Chief Cote said he believed the fire started in the basement or the first floor hallway, and, fed by a storage can of kerosene or fuel oil kept in the hallway, filled the stair well with flames within a few seconds.

At first neighbors reported the Sitkos had a second child, a three-months-old baby, but as firemen sought for it, other occupants of the house said there was only one child.

Occupants of four other tenements in the building, including seven children, escaped by a rear stairway.

300 Danish Nazi Paraders Arrested

COPENHAGEN, (via Berlin) Dec. 9 (AP)—Nearly 300 Danish Nazis were arrested in the North Schleswig town of Haderslev last night when they tried to parade illegally in uniform. In rioting that accompanied the arrests, ten policemen and Nazis were wounded.

Ten officers tried vainly to prevent the Nazi march to the town's largest hall. Some of the party members, armed with clubs, shut themselves in the hall, disregarding demands for their surrender.

Wearing gas masks, the constables and police reinforcements from nearby towns rushed into the hall and captured the Nazis.

Rookie Learns When Not to Salute

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., Dec. 9 (AP)—This draft selectee, following the adage "When in doubt, salute"—and he was even saluting other selectees—was told to use discretion. Driving an Army car past an officer on the road, he saluted—and smashed into a tree.

Tomorrow Last Day For Yule Ship Gifts

By JAMES DOOLING

To all New Englanders who have so generously joined in the movement to fill CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND:

These are the closing days of this splendid and altogether successful campaign.

If you plan to deliver any parcels of clothing and shoes to any of the stations established through the kindness of municipal authorities or in clubs or other organizations, you must have your donation in by tomorrow, Dec. 10.

All such stations are also asked not to accept contributions after tomorrow, as it will be too late for the Christmas Ship schedule.

On Wednesday, Dec. 11, the fleets of trucks, which have so wholeheartedly helped by collecting from these stations, will make their last calls in the various communities throughout New England.

And on Thursday, Dec. 12, the volunteer staffs at Christmas Ship headquarters, 100 and 72 Summer st., will receive the last parcels.

Other stories and information on "A Christmas Ship for England" will be found on pages 14, 16 and 17.

cases and cartons that come by express of parcel post.

FINAL DEADLINE
Thursday evening at closing time, 9:30 p. m., marks the definite and final dead line for reception of any kind of gifts to go on a CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND.

It has to be so, because of the huge task of sorting, listing, and packing that still confronts headquarters' workers if they are to have the last case ready for shipment aboard on noon next Saturday.

There are still countless contributions to come in and all these must be handled. Many donations of the thousands of school children, Boy Scouts, women's clubs, fraternal, civic, patriotic and social organizations are still to come.

It would be obviously impossible to ready all these for shipment abroad if these final days were not set in various fields.

The great and generous people of New England who have so freely

BEST OF ALL—Among hundreds of cases going on Christmas Ship for England is Case No. 8 X X, filled with dainty, brand-new baby woolens. They will bring joy to scores of young mothers abroad. Checking it on list is Mrs. Joseph Burke of Brighton, full-time volunteer worker.

Send Only Woolens or Flannels

TO ALL DONORS FOR A CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND:

Please contribute only WOOLEN or FLANNEL garments, suitable for winter and in good repair.

Please give only garments that have been WASHED or CLEANSED and PRESSED. Health officials require the cleansing. Packing makes pressing imperative.

Further: Beware of impostors who may solicit contributions of money or clothing. None but authorized agencies are collecting garments; no one is soliciting cash. Call police if in doubt.

Trustees Slap Council Over Nurse

In a terse letter today, the Boston City Hospital trustees, over the signature of George A. Parker, refused the City Council request to meet and discuss the appointment of Miss Margaret J. Busche as director of the hospital nursing school and superintendent of nurses.

The order through which the City Council requested the appearance today of the hospital trustees was passed by the council a week ago.

It followed a new attack on the trustees for appointing Miss Busche, a native of Ohio, to the post held until her resignation last August by Miss Ella R. Logan. The Council objected to the Busche appointment on the ground that she is not a Boston resident, is not a graduate of the Boston City Hospital school and was brought here by Miss Logan as an aide.

First Lady Bids Mrs. Willkie

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today that Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie had been invited to the White House for a gridiron Club "widows' party" Saturday night. Willkie will be the Gridiron dinner main speaker.

President Roosevelt recently advised the club he would be unable to attend because of his Caribbean cruise.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Roosevelt said, the "widows' party" for wives of men at the Gridiron gathering will be held according to custom. Reporting this to a press conference, she said that Mrs. Willkie had been asked to be present, but that she had not heard yet whether she actually was coming.

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Another contingent of airmen from Canada—graduates of the empire air training organization—arrived at a British port today for assignment to various RAF units.

HIGH COURT TO RULE IN MUSIC WAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review litigation involving one phase of the attempt by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) to control prices charged for public playing of the nation's popular music.

The tribunal consented to pass on a decision holding invalid a Nebraska anti-monopoly law which permitted public performance of music whenever the original purchase price had been paid.

The litigation affecting the composers' organization, popularly known as "Ascapi," is an offshoot of radio's battle of music which is approaching a showdown.

A musical price war is now raging between the National Association of Broadcasters and Ascapi, which controls the copyrights of approximately 90 per cent of popular music.

Five-year contracts between station owners and Ascapi expire on Dec. 31 and the organization is attempting to increase its charges. Money received by the organization is distributed to its members according to the popularity of their songs.

Civilian Police Corps To Guard Navy Yards

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (INS)—A civilian police corps, to take over police work in navy yards and establishments now being protected by Marines, was created today by Asst. Sec. of the Navy James Forrestal.

Forrestal said the new corps would comprise 2500 men selected from the civil service list. As soon as they go to work the marines will be released for active military duty.

Mystery Love Note Stirs Divorce Trial

Three months' support in nearly a score of marriage years send rather a lopsided ratio to Mrs. Lillian S. Nackley, attractive raveshair Walpole manufacturer, she testified today in opening her suit for divorce.

Mrs. Nackley, mother of a 15-year-old daughter, said she had worked since the third month of her marriage to Joseph Nackley of Boston, who used to be Joseph Kallil. He took a change of name two years ago when he was in the navy.

Courtsmen speculated had settled down to what seemed pretty routine stuff when up hopped the husband's lawyer with a letter that read something out of a dream.

This writer Mrs. Nackley had denied has had trouble with her husband another man, but admitted seeing the letter—anonymous, by way, but supposed to be from a lover.

MYSTERY LETTER READ
Not, however, such a lawyer as writes alone the line of "Your account has been placed in our hands."

The letter appeared, was signed only "Truth" and was written on stationery of the Conley Inn, Tipton, Ct. It read: "Dearest: court from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. interviewing several clients. Dictated six lines, wrote two powers of attorney to send abroad. Took Ford bus at 1 p.m. Traveled hills over hills and dunes. Fed through many cities and towns. Met thousands of people who spoke to few. "With all this above to engage my attention I am still missing the one for whom I live. I would to God it were possible to have that one with me."

Probers Call John L. Lewis

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—John L. Lewis, the former CIO president, and a number of other participants in the 1940 presidential campaign were subpoenaed today to appear before a federal grand jury investigating alleged irregularities in the campaign.

The jury already has heard testimony from a number of political leaders. Those summoned today are scheduled to appear Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Lewis supported Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee. After President Roosevelt won reelection Lewis resigned his CIO presidency.

Southbridge Rector's Baby Badly Burned

SOUTHBIDGE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Sarah Cole, six months old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. William H. Cole, is in a critical condition today at Harrington Hospital from burns received when a vapor lamp near her crib exploded and covered her with flames.

The father is rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church here.

BIG MIAMI GUARD FOR WINDSORS

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9 (AP)—A police guard of the elaborate proportions usually accorded only to the President of the United States has been assigned to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor for their arrival here tomorrow from Nassau.

Traffic Inspector William J. McCarthy said 50 policemen would guard the pier where the famed yacht Southern Cross will dock with the former British King and his wife.

An escort of 20 motorcycles will accompany them to a Miami Beach hospital where the Duchess will undergo a major dental operation.

At New York, it was announced that the arrival of the duke and duchess at Miami would be described at 9:30 a. m. in a 15-minute WEAF-NBC Red Network broadcast.—Editor's note.

The Duke, governor of the British Bahamas, let it be understood he would make no public appearances while in the United States.

The royal governor decided yesterday to accept the use of the Southern Cross, owned by Alexis Wenner-Gren, Swedish industrialist. A half-day delay in the sailing schedule of the S. S. Munargo, on which passage has been booked, caused the change in plans.

Aides to the Duke in Nassau said the extra time through use of the Southern Cross was considered valuable in permitting the Duchess to recuperate partially before returning to the Bahamian capital aboard the Munargo Friday.

The yacht will dock at the same pier from which President Roosevelt embarked last week for a Caribbean cruise aboard the cruiser Tuscaloosa.

Wenner-Gren's 338-foot yacht, once owned by Howard Hughes, earned fame as a mercy ship in Sept. 1939, when it picked up 376 survivors of the liner Athenia, torpedoed in the Atlantic shortly after the war's outbreak.

Peepers Hurl Snow As Victim Screams

A peeper was sought by Cambridge police today after the complaint of Miss Mary Udell of Prescott st. that she was roused to find a man leaning in the window of her apartment.

She screamed, but even as he fled he stopped long enough to pelt her with ice and snow through the window, she said.

PATRICK MURPHY RITES

Funeral services for Patrick G. Murphy, father of the Rev. Mortimer J. Murphy, S. J., member of the Boston College high school faculty, will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. from Immaculate Conception Church, Revere.

BORDEAUX BLASTED BY RAF

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—A great fire was started by British night air raiders among buildings between two of the dock basins in the German-held French port of Bordeaux, the air ministry news service said today.

This was part of the far-flung British air attacks last night in which, the air ministry said, RAF bombers raided industrial and military targets in the Dueseldorf area of Germany, the submarine base at the French Atlantic port of Lorient, the harbors of Bordeaux, Brest, Flushing, Dunkirk and Gravelines and "several enemy airdromes."

A bulletin said Bordeaux was "heavily attacked," and the raids on Brest and Lorient were the second within 24 hours.

"At Lorient," the news service said, "sticks of bombs were distributed across docks and storehouses."

"A great blue flash was seen, too, after a salvo of bombs hit dry-docks."

"Brest was lit up soon after the raid began by the flare of a burning dockside building."

Other bombs, the air ministry said, struck around the military port, the naval barracks and dry-docks.

Shakeup Hits Italian Navy

ROME, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Italian Navy, as well as the Army, functioned under new command today after a shake-up by which Premier Mussolini apparently intends to intensify the nation's war efforts.

Admiral Arturo Riccardi, 62, became naval chief of staff and under-secretary of the Navy—Premier Mussolini holds the naval portfolio himself—following the resignation yesterday of Admiral Domenico Cavagnari. Admiral Angelo Jacchini was given the title "commander of the fleet on the sea," and Admiral Inigo Campione was made vice-chief of the naval staff.

In the midst of the series of changes which placed two army leaders, Marshal Pietro Badoglio and General Cesare Maria de Vecchi Count di Val Cismon, and a naval leader on the retired list in three days, all at their "own request"—Il Duce lost two of his generals in an airplane crash in northern Italy Saturday.

One was General Aldo Pellegrini, 52, his chief of civil aviation, the other General Pietro Pinet, 60, head of the Armistice Commission dealing with vanquished France.

Egypt Formally Bans Italian Arithmetic Book

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Egyptian cabinet today banned the Italian arithmetic book, "Arithmetica Practica" by Cantarado Baffi, from Egyptian schools on the ground that its arithmetic problems were so worded as to "spread Fascist propaganda and justify Italian imperialist designs against Britain and France."

Repeal of Neutrality Act Fought by Nye

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (INS)—As the United States began fulfilling its pledge of help to Greece and studied new ways to increase war aid to Great Britain and possibly Spain, Sen. Nye (R.) of North Dakota, today warned that President Roosevelt will seek outright repeal of the Neutrality Act at the new session of Congress next month.

Carrying out its policy of aiding nations fighting aggression, the U. S. has released 30 speedy P-40 Curtiss pursuit planes for immediate delivery to Greece, government sources disclosed.

PRIORITY WAIVED

Great Britain, the Balkan country's ally, made possible the release of the first group of planes by waiving priority rights. More than half of the ships were purchased by and awaiting delivery to England, it was said.

Nye, one of the authors of the neutrality act, voiced his warning as British Undersecretary of the Treasury Sir Frederick Phillips prepared to renew his conference later in the week with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to give this country a complete balance sheet of England's financial condition and her war needs.

RIGHT TO CONVOY

Nye pointed out that repeal of the neutrality act would allow U. S. warships to convoy American ships containing British supplies to England. He asserted that such a step was sure to lead to war as it did in 1917.

Nye also attacked statements by Morgenthau and Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones that England would be a good risk for war loans.

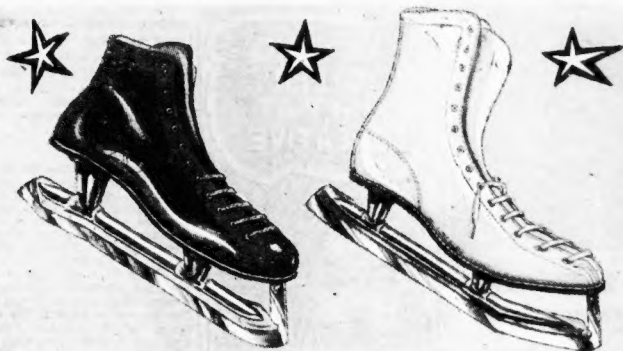

"That is silly," he said. "Any dollars loaned to England are going to be dollars that we will never see again."

Sen. Adams (D) of Colorado proposed, however, that the U. S. step up its aid to Britain by allowing England to purchase 60 out of every war planes produced in American factories. Under President Roosevelt's present rule-of-thumb policy, Britain is on a 50-50 basis with this government in buying planes.

Meanwhile, conversations are going forward at the State Department regarding a plea of Spain for credits of between $100,000,000 and $250,000,000. Spain is reported to need food badly. This government, it was reported, will make food credits available in return for a pledge from Spain that it would not help Italy or Germany in Europe's war. Here again, such aid to Spain would, in effect, be aid to England, if Spain made and kept the pledge.

London Offices Of U. S. Radio Chains Bombed

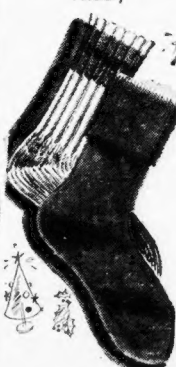

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—London offices of both the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting Co. were damaged by bombs in German raids on the British capital last night.

Larry Leacur, CBS correspondent, told in a transatlantic broadcast today of finding his London office "in ruins" when he returned to it this morning.

It was the second time the aerial warfare against Britain started that Columbia's office had been wrecked by bombs, he said.

800 TONS OF BOMBS POURED ON LONDON

thing gave the impression of an almost normal city.
But there was plenty to remind Londoners that they had been made the target of the full weight of the aerial might of Germany.
The stench of water-soaked, charred wood from still smoldering buildings, debris-littered roads and the acres of broken glass, the remains of once fine buildings and homes standing like desolate skeletons against the sky—these were reminders of what had happened during the night.

WRITER HAS CLOSE CALL

A crazy network of hopepipe zigzagged across the streets as firemen labored to douse the last embers of burned out buildings and rows of homes.

And everywhere there was the continuous clatter of glass as shirt-sleeved store assistants, business-sist demolition squads restore a semblance of order and clear the glass into the gutters to be carted away.

This writer, who from force of circumstance spent much of the night in the streets, watched air raid precaution squads and rescue workers perform their tasks under the most trying conditions. In some grimly affected areas they performed wonders.

I walked the streets after a large bomb landed just opposite the apartment in which I was sleeping. The explosion filled the air with flying bricks, glass, cement and steel and damaged a wide area.

Luckily I was on the side of the building farthest from the blast and escaped without a scratch.

I picked my way through the wreckage to a telephone and called the International News Service London office, ascertaining that it was safe and reporting the news of my own narrow escape.

As I stood there shivering in my pajamas, volunteer workers rushed into the building to assist me and hunt for anyone who might be trapped in debris.

Two other members of the International News Service London staff—Merrill Mueller and Robert G. Nixon—had narrow escapes.

After this experience I made a tour of the first aid stations during the night hours and saw a procession of injured victims, some on stretchers and some afoot, brought and cared for by peace-time clerks and stenographers while aircraft passed constantly overhead and bombs occasionally whistled to earth.

At 7:30 a. m. the all-clear finally sounded, but the worst of the attack was over some time before then. At about the same hour the air ministry issued a communique on the night attack, saying German bombers had heavily attacked London and the surrounding districts, starting many fires and doing considerable damage to buildings and houses, killing some persons and injuring others.

It added that bombs were dropped on many districts between London and the southeast coast as well as upon other localities in southern England—and that two German bombers had been destroyed during the night.

Nazis Promise London Cyclone to Come

BERLIN, Dec. 9 (INS)—Last night's German aerial assault on London was the "greatest mass raid yet attempted," authoritative German quarters insisted today, but they promised more and heavier attacks are in store for Britain's battered capital.

"Last night's attack," they said, "was only a scale in comparison to the cyclone the Luftwaffe can let loose when the time is ripe."

"We are still far from the high peak of our raids."

An official announcement said 700 tons of high explosives and 80 or 100 tons of incendiary bombs were dropped on London during the night.

The latest German airmen to return reported vast fires still burning in the bombed sections of the city.

During the raid, authorities asserted, London's anti-aircraft defenses "completely collapsed after several hours of attack," and German planes went almost unopposed. This probably meant that the British gunners ran short of ammunition, authorities said.

This, it was stated, enabled the German pilots to fly at lower altitudes than usual.

The news agency, DNE, said bomber crews reported huge conflagrations in London looked like gigantic sheets of flame, over which rose dense clouds of smoke. Several large gas tanks were blown up, it was reported.

Authoritative German sources said the attacking planes silenced the London anti-aircraft batteries by flying low over the city and dropping hundreds of small explosives on the guns and searchlight positions. Every time a ground gun tried to open fire, it was violently bombarded by swarms of planes, these quarters declared.

Fascist Guard On Italy's King, Athens Hears

ATHENS, Dec. 9 (INS)—New disturbances and demonstrations broke out in Florence yesterday, according to unconfirmed reports reaching Athens today.

King Victor Emmanuel's residence, these advices said, is being heavily guarded by Italian Blackshirts in a move which reportedly "much resembled detention."

All private radios in Florence have been sealed, these reports said. Only Fascist clubs and certain party pubs tuning in exclusively on Italian broadcasts are permitted to play their radios, it was said.

1000 WOULD-BE OWNERS IN RUSH TO GET 60 WAIF DOGS FREE

FLORHAM PARK, N. J., Dec. 8 (AP)—Discouraged over the "prize-cution" she says she incurred for providing homes for thousands of dogs in the last 15 years, Mrs. Jane Crosby today completed her task of distributing her last 75 waifs. She distributed 60 dogs yesterday among the 1000 would-be owners who crowded around the ruins of her bungalow, which burned Friday. Of the rest, she intends to keep 10 requiring special attention because of ailments. Men, women and children came in response to Mrs. Crosby's announcement that she was forced to dispose of the kennel because the fire had wiped out her few remaining sources. Every new owner had to sign a contract promising to take care of the dog for the rest of the animal's life.

Japs Again Warn U. S. 'Keep Out'

TOKYO Dec. 8 (AP)—Another warning that Japan will enter the European war if the United States joins the conflict against Nazi Germany was given today by Yosuke Matsuoka, foreign minister.

In an unusually frank interview with foreign press correspondents, the American-educated statesman expressed hopes for an "understanding" with the United States, but warned that Japan's policies now are based upon the tripartite agreement with Germany and Italy.

He mentioned all territorial ambitions on the part of Japan, said that Nippon desires nothing in the Dutch East Indies but an extension to the foothold, and announced that the war against China would continue until victory.

"Whatever differences may occur between Japan and the United States—even if serious—should never lead to such a fatal clash," Matsuoka said.

FOOLISH TO FIGHT

"I hope and pray we may reach a better understanding. It would be foolish for Japan and America to fight."

"If we keep our heads, existing differences are not great enough to lead to war."

"But Japan would certainly have to fight if the United States went to war against Germany."

"We can thank the West for many things imported into Japan," Matsuoka said.

"But I regret we have imported some greedy notions as well."

"There is in this country a group of people enamored of Western ideas of conquest. But thoughtful and responsible sections of public opinion are fighting against it."

TO CONTINUE CHINA WAR

Asked whether Vice-Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, new Japanese envoy to the United States, would endeavor to improve Japanese-American relations, Matsuoka said:

"Certainly he will."

Matsuoka said Japan would not modify her policy toward China as a step toward improvement of relations with the United States.

Pope Holds Out Hope for France

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 8 (AP)—Pope Pius XII offered encouragement to France today, expressing the hope she would find better and happier days, in receiving the credentials of the new French ambassador, Leon Berard.

Berard addressed the Pope with "emotion and ardor," saying the Pontiff said found "understanding, sympathy and encouragement" in his heart, especially for a "proposal to lead France back to better and more serene days."

From then on it will be a race against time, with scores of volunteer workers fighting the clock to get every last article of clothing and every last pair of shoes loaded in packing boxes.

DO NOT WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MOMENT! DON'T CAUSE EVEN ONE CASE TO MISS THE SHIP!

The hours between the Thursday night deadline and the sailing of the CHRISTMAS SHIP will be few—and full. The time of the ship's sailing—and its place of departure—of course, are clothed in secrecy. It must be so.

But it is imperative that it leave on schedule if it is to reach England in time for the contents of those precious packing cases—YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS—to be distributed before Christmas.

WEEK'S DRIVE

Attention to these closing dates is called particularly to the thousands of school children and Boy Scouts in Greater Boston who have just completed a week's drive in aid of their school mates in Old England.

Approximately 24,000 pupils in Boston, Chelsea, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Revere, Salem, Watertown and Winthrop, directed by teachers' committees, took part in the drive, together with Scouts from Brookline, Chelsea, Dedham, Dorchester, Everett, Milton, Somerville and Westwood.

For you older folks, who are making your contributions—be sure to do so in time so that the bundles will arrive before the deadline is reached. If you are delivering them personally, make every effort to do it as soon as possible.

AVOID JAM

In this way you can help the unselfish men and women—teachers, school teachers and college students—who with employees of the Boston Daily Record-American and Sunday Advertiser have voluntarily given of their time and labor.

In this way a last minute jam can be avoided and the final important steps in the process of preparing contributions—YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS—for shipment can be taken smoothly and efficiently and this great work be concluded, an unqualified success.

The pleasure of giving is a thrill which only the giver, himself, can realize. Don't let anyone's pleasure be diminished by the realization that his contribution was received too late.

Pens Verse To Explain His Suicide

After he had written a suicide note in verse, a 35-year-old Cambridge man was found dead today in a gas-filled bedroom.

The victim was George Dorsey, of Dana st., Cambridge, who had no job.

His farewell message to the world he chose to leave read:

"When you have wandered along
Life's highway
With its storms around your head,
And you're battered, burned and beaten,
And you've lost everything you had;
When the spark burns no longer,
Then you might as well
be dead."

Police said gas was flowing from an unlighted heater near Dorsey's bed.

He lived with an aunt. She said he had been despondent over being unemployed with the Christmas season at hand.

Two notes, not in rhyme, were left by Dorsey. One was addressed to the aunt, the other to the medical examiner.

The rhymed note was headed:
"REASONS FOR SUICIDE"

(AP). French Indo-China, Dec. 9 (AP).—French warplanes were reported today to have dropped 22 bombs on the Thai (Siamese) town of Lakhon early today in "retaliation" for an alleged bombing of the Indo-China border town of Vientiane by Thai planes yesterday.

French authorities announced officially that hostilities in the border dispute had flared to serious proportions and involved considerable bombing.

605 NEW CITIZENS TAKE OATH

Welcoming 605 persons, mostly women, as new citizens of the United States, Judge Francis J. W. Ford in federal court here today warned all to be on guard against enemies within the country who preach subversive doctrines.

The new citizens are part of a group of more than 2000 who will be sworn as citizens in the first three days of this week. Judge George C. Sweeney assisted Judge Ford in administering the oath of citizenship.

Following the taking of the oath of allegiance to the United States the new citizens were told by Judge Ford:

"The United States bids you welcome. All we ask is that you be patriotic citizens. Be on your guard against the enemies of the country who preach subversive doctrines from within."

Judge Ford then contrasted their happy lot with the misfortunes and sorrows of people in Europe, saying:

"There every moment of every day and night people live in constant fear. Fear not only for food and clothing, but fear for their lives and their future."

At the conclusion of the ceremonies each new citizen was presented with final papers and the Ladies Auxiliary of the South End Post, American Legion, presented each person with a small American flag to be pinned on their lapels.

Federal building attaches said the group was one of the largest ever to take the oath of allegiance in one day.

Horse With $1 Pinned to Mane Brings 90 Cents

SALISBURY, N. C., Dec. 9 (AP)—They were holding a public auction sale at a lot near here. A horse was put on the block. It wasn't much of a horse, it's true but—

Not a single bid was offered. "Pin a dollar bill to its mane and see what it'll bring," someone suggested.

This was done. Then the horse and the greenback were knocked down at 90 cents.

Life and Adventures of Santa Claus

EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1940

The Story So Far:

FOUR-YEAR-OLD Nicholas lived with his father, mother, and baby sister in a little village on the shores of the Euxine sea. Nicholas loved his mother, whose name was Katie. He cared for her tenderly and carried wooden dolls for her amusement.

One day Baby Katie became very ill. Father was at sea with the other fishermen of the town. Nicholas and his mother watched the little, feverish form in the cradle.

When Katie seemed worse, Nicholas' mother went out into the stormy night to get the doctor. Long hours Nicholas watched. Finally the baby's brow was less hot. Soon it was cold. Then it was cold. Next morning the village folk found Nicholas weeping beside his dead sister. Then knew that his father had been drowned during the night and his mother killed by a falling tree.

What to do with Nicholas, now an orphan, was the problem. At length, the good people solved it by agreeing to keep him for a year at each of their homes.

The first to care for Nicholas was a family named Buvians. They were so kind to him that the year slipped by like a happy dream.

As the day came to leave and go to another family Nicholas wanted to do something to show his gratitude to the Buvians. He remembered how his sister loved the dolls he used to make. So he made dolls and boats and other toys and gave them to the Euxian children.

He was sad when he said goodbye and departed to live for twelve long months with the family of the villager rope-maker, but his heart was comforted by the thought of the happiness he had left behind him.

Now Continue:

By Julie Lane

THE Christmas days that followed were happy, not only for Nicholas, but for all the children he met in his travels from house to house.

At the rope-maker's cottage, most of the winter evenings were spent by the children listening to wind and untangle masses of twine, and to do most of the simple needle-mending. Nicholas discovered that by loosening strands of flaxen-colored hemp he could make the most realistic hair for the little wooden dolls he still found time to carve.

When he left at the end of the year on Christmas Day, the rope-maker's five little children found five little toys waiting for them on the mantel of their fireplace, and Nicholas did not forget his promise to the three Buvians but made a special trip to their house Christmas morning with their gifts.

And so it happened, as the years went on, and Nicholas grew more and more skillful with his father's jack-knife, that the children of each household came to expect one of Nicholas' toys on Christmas Day. Not one child was ever disappointed, for the young wood-carver had a faculty for remembering exactly what each child liked.

Fisher-men's sons received toy boats built just as carefully as the larger boats their fathers owned; little girls were delighted with dolls that had "real hair," and with little chains and talismans which they could have real tea-parties.

A MODEL YOUTH

All this time, Nicholas had been busy with many other things besides toy-making. As he grew into a tall, strong boy, there were many tasks in which he had his share, and which he did willingly and well. In the spring, he learned to dig and plant the hard northern soil with the vegetables the family lived on during the winter; all summer he helped with hoists, mended nets, took care of chickens, cows, horses, and in one well-to-do household even mother.

SANTA—Friend of everyone. Julie Lane's gripping story tells you all about him. Start it today.

He was an especial favorite with the mothers, because the babies and younger children would look to Nicholas, who would play with them and care for them, thus giving the tired mothers a chance to attend to the more serious.

During the winter months, Nicholas attended school, not to learn to read and write, but to learn to sing. A B.C. school was held for boys in the village, and the schoolmaster's name.

So on one particular winter's day we find Nicholas on his way to school, trudging through a snowy country road, carrying a small sled loaded with books and wood.

He is now 11 years old, a tall, thin lad, dressed in the long heavy coat of the village. His hair is brown, his eyes are blue, and his cheeks, rosy from the keen winter sun. He walks briskly, because although his work will be Christmas time, he knows that he will have to make his first change before the year is over, full of friends and work for every child in the village.

It is a fine day, and he has been able to do his work, and the thought of his father, the village headman, when he will go to the village to see the children, makes him feel a little sad. He is a good boy, and he is a good worker, and he is a good friend to all the children of the village. He is a good boy, and he is a good worker, and he is a good friend to all the children of the village.

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON of California says there is no longer any doubt in his mind that the United States is going to get into the war, and that we are edging nearer to it every day.

"Those in command of us," he declares, "are perfectly mad to be a part of the game. When it is propitious from their point of view, they will take us in."

There is much evidence to support Mr. Johnson's pessimistic view.

We ARE already in the war economically.

Our airplanes and naval vessels are in the war.

We are committed by President Roosevelt's "rule of thumb" to deliver half our defense production to Great Britain.

So we are deeply involved in the war.

However, perhaps Senator Johnson is too pessimistic.

Let us hope at least that he is. Has not President Roosevelt said repeatedly and emphatically that we are NOT going to get into war?

Surely Mr. Roosevelt MEANT what he said, otherwise the American people have been sadly deceived.

At the very outset of the present war he said in a message to the American people that he not only hoped the United States would keep out of war but that he BELIEVED it would.

Before a rain-drenched crowd in Rochester, N. Y., on November 2, 1940, three days before the last election, President Roosevelt reviewed his record of peaceful effort and said:

"It seems to me that a fellow with that kind of record over a good many years must have his feet on the ground and I don't believe he has his finger on the trigger."

Then Mr. Roosevelt said most positively:

"YOUR PRESIDENT SAYS THIS COUNTRY IS NOT GOING TO WAR."

SENATOR JOHNSON is entirely right, none the-less, about the pressure being exerted in this country for war, and also our grave danger of being thus influenced to enter the war.

Senator Johnson objects strenuously to war.

But what he objects to most is "being eased in by groups who are deliberately hiding their designs."

These groups are moving freely about the country, and unfortunately are not always hiding their designs but more often than not are openly and frankly suggesting that our best interest is not in maintaining peace but in going "all out" into the conflict.

Americans sympathetic with these purposes are actively abetting them.

The theme of the foreign propagandist is that Britain will lose the war without our aid, or at least negotiate a compromise peace which—it is said—would be the best peace obtainable under the circumstances and probably a humiliating peace.

The theme of the sympathetic Americans is that it is really our war and that we not only should not let Britain down but should not PERMIT a compromise peace.

These are the forces that are easing us and edging us toward war.

Senator Johnson says they are going to succeed in embroiling us.

President Roosevelt has positively said we will NOT be embroiled.

Let us hope Senator Johnson is wrong and President Roosevelt is RIGHT.

Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt would not have been elected to a third term if he had not convinced the majority of the American people he was right and could be relied upon to STAY RIGHT

PRECIOUS DAYS PASS and only a short time remains to contribute warm clothing to go on the Christmas Ship for Britain's homeless thousands.

If you have neglected or delayed giving something to be placed aboard the Christmas Ship for England, act now.

Surely you can spare a warm sweater, dress, suit, coat or underwear for a destitute family—a family that spends long and chilly hours in frigid cellars and underground shelters as bombs rain overhead.

The plight of little children is particularly desperate, because many who have escaped injury from exploding shrapnel will be in constant danger of death from colds or pneumonia unless adequate clothing is found for them.

The woolly garment you send to Britain on the Christmas Ship may very probably be the means of saving a child's life.

"IN CASE OF Notre Dame University is the pronunciation 'Notre Dayme' or 'Notre Dahm,'" asks a Chicagoan. The president of the university has stated "Notre Dayme" is correct . . . Are you a "definitions" enthusiast? I am. Some of my favorites are: A BORE—One who talks when you want him to listen. A GENTLEMAN—One who can disagree without being disagreeable. A PESSIMIST—One who, when he has a choice of two evils, takes both. A DIPLOMAT—A man who remembers a woman's birthday and forgets her age . . . Some young women of Pittsburgh have organized the "We Wanna Get Married Club." They ask by wire: "May we depend on your co-operation, Mr. Durling?" Absolutely, ladies. What's more I'll come to Pittsburgh to dance at all your weddings.

something of an authority on this subject as I have been married eight times" . . . Painters of profiles do women from the left side and men from the right. Reason for this is that all that is sweet, gentle and feminine in the human face is expressed on the left side and all that is energetic, virile and male is concentrated on the right side.

THERE WILL be a film "The Birth of the Blues." How many "blues" can you remember? I can recall "St. Louis Blues," "Beale St. Blues," "Memphis Blues" and "Deatur St. Blues" . . . "What is your favorite hymn?" asks a Racine, Wis., reader. Thanks, ma'am, for suspecting my interest in hymns. It is "Oswald Christian Soldiers" . . . "Ninety-Three U. S. Shipyards to Build Freighters for Britain," says a headline. Why not build some submarine freighters? Simon Lake says he knows how . . . Are American husbands spoiling their wives? That's what some contemporary columnists are saying. And, what's more, there are wives who agree with them! Gentlemen, perhaps, we should be more strict with our wives. They don't seem to appreciate being spoiled.

MY DAY

WASHINGTON, Sunday—San Antonio, Texas, is a city which I think has real charm. There were two things I wanted to do there on Friday, which I did not succeed in doing, so I shall have to go back there before long.

Mayor Maury Maverick has been rebuilding an old section of the city which I wanted very much to see and, in addition, I wanted to visit the housing project which is nearly completed.

I had time, however, to see two or three friends at the hotel. After lunch, the Mayor's car took us to the airport where a number of Democratic ladies were kind enough to come and see us off on our plane, which was half an hour late.

In Dallas we had time to go to the hotel and have a comfortable dinner before we went to the airport to take the sleeper plane for Washington. We ran into a windy, rainy stretch and tossed about quite a bit before we reached Nashville, Tennessee. Then calm settled on us again and we arrived ahead of time, about 5:15 a. m. at the Washington Airport.

I WENT to the White House, to be greeted by a number of the staff, who should never have been up at that early hour. Though I tried to go to sleep again, I might just as well have stayed up, for I was wide awake and glad to see my breakfast appear at 8:30. It is nice to feel settled again, and I am having no more long trips for some months to come.

As I look back on this trip I feel that I know a little more about that vast state of Texas. I am not quite sure whether I shall not have to ask Miss Dorothy Thompson to join me on my next lecture trip, for everyone looks so disappointed when my secretary gives her first name and it is not Dorothy!

Yesterday was spent catching up on mail—which certainly had accumulated—and beginning to wrap up Christmas presents. I really enjoy going into my closet where I accumulate things for this particular season, and doing them up with gay paper and ribbons and marking them for mailing. So many have to go far away this year that they must be ready well ahead of time.

I lunched with the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Morgenthau and the Secretary's father, a particular pleasure, for I do not see Mr. Morgenthau, Sr., half as much as I would like.

At teatime Miss Grace Frysinger brought Lady Archer-Shee and Mrs. Roop from Virginia, to talk over some of the problems of our rural women in their organizations, particularly in connection with their work in the Association of the Rural Women of the World.

This organization, which includes women of all over the world, is trying even now to keep in touch with some of its members in occupied areas and countries which are at war.

HIGH POST LOOMS FOR McNARY

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A recent report in Washington was that a high New Deal post—possibly in the Cabinet—would be offered to Sen. McNary, the Republican candidate for Vice-President . . . Administration leaders have a genuine affection for McNary and feel that he represents the true ideals of the West.

SPORTS DEPT.: Dan Topping, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers football team, was in the Stork Club expressing his hope of obtaining Sid Luckman, backfield star for the Chicago Bears . . . Luckman was raised in Brooklyn, and Topping knows that his acquisition would mean record gate receipts . . . Topping is offering twice as much as was ever paid for any player in the history of professional football.

CRIME DEPT.: In the new movie, "Go West," Groucho Marx portrays the character of "Mr. S. Quentin Quale" . . . The Hays office hasn't given its final approval for the premiere of the film at the Capitol Theater. That approval depends upon the determination as to whether this is a violation of the ban against using the phrase "Jail Bait" or its equivalent.

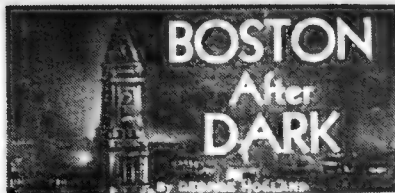

LOCAL NEWS: Paul Robeson will broadcast a new song, with words by Nathaniel Corwin and music by Earle Robinson, composer of "Ballad for Americans." The broadcast will be for the benefit of the Rescue Ship Mission . . . Michael Todd will produce "We Were Here First," by Finis Farr and Joe Bryan, 3d . . . Abram Chasins, the violinist, will defend ASCAP in a Nashville address before the American Confederation of Musical Clubs.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS: Maurice Maeterlinck was a luncheon guest at a function attended by a group of distinguished men . . . The chairman suggested that the assemblage might be interested in hearing from the author of "The Blue Bird" . . . Maeterlinck replied, in French: "If I read a speech from manuscript, I'll stumble. And if I speak extemporaneously, that would be a catastrophe. I'll do neither. I bow."

MUSIC DEPT.: Al Jolson was visited backstage by Eddie Davis, author of his show, "Hold On to Your Hats." Jolson confessed that he was getting a bit tired of performing every night, plus two matinees each week. "Sometimes I feel so weary," he sighed, "I feel like falling to my knees." "The audience won't know the difference," assured Davis, whose sole income depends upon Jolson's continuing the show, "if you stay that way—and just say 'Mammy!'"

CITY HALL DEPT.: At last week's luncheon of the City Commissioners, Civil Service Commr. Paul Kern—who is fighting a citation for contempt of court—met Bill Carey, the sanitation commissioner, who has been away from the city, working on his new defense job for the federal government . . . "And where are my usual cigars," Kern asked . . . "Frankly, I never expected you'd be here," confessed Carey—searching for the parcel-post receipt as proof. "I sent the cigars to you, in care of the Tombs."

AT THE OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB Irving Caesar and Rosika Schwimmer, who worked on Henry Ford's Peace Ship in 1915, celebrated the 25th anniversary of the sailing . . . Caesar presented an old friend named Jack Greenberg, a Postal Telegraph messenger boy, who had been a stowaway on the peace ship . . . Six hours after the vessel sailed Caesar went to the large workroom and started to impress Henry Ford with his diligence . . . Suddenly he heard a tapping on the porthole—and there saw Greenberg, frozen, hungry and pleading to be "discovered" . . . "Go away and knock on another porthole," the frantic Caesar told his friend. "They'll know we're friends and we'll both be put in irons" . . . Greenberg obeyed and when he was "discovered" Caesar intervened, crying, "Hands off, gentlemen. This is a worthy case—a stowaway for peace" . . . The stowaway was saved from the irons and the newspaper men aboard sold his life story to another passenger, S. S. McClure.

MONDAY MUSINGS—The first of what will probably be a long succession of parties honoring her first grandson was given by Ruby Foo at her Boston Den . . . Phil Baker, Nancy Noel, and Pert Kelton of "All In Fun" were among those present, and the feast was a combination of the best-loved morsels (by the Chinese) in Chinese cuisine . . . Among the items served were: chicken roll with fresh lichees; squash hash—Chinese style; bird-nest soup; hon sue lobster meat with French mushrooms; dan guy (fried chicken, Chinese style); steamed fish balls with Chinese mushrooms, and (dessert) fresh lichees . . . What, no chop suey? . . . No, nor chow mein, either . . . As a matter of fact to duplicate this menu for individual service would nick the customer about $20.

BY NOW IT HAS BEEN DECIDED whether Max Baer is to continue as the optimistic hoodlum of "Hi-Ya Gentlemen" . . . And soon Phil Baker probably will be rehearsing again with the revue "All In Fun," to which he subscribed his service and a pool of about $20,000 when it began rehearsals six weeks ago . . . In the hope that these casting misadventures will be set right, your envoy nevertheless regards the situation of two male stars being tossed on the horns of twin dilemmas, both in Boston and both at the same time, as a coincidence that has not happened before, and perhaps will never happen again.

THE CASES WERE very different . . . Mr. Baker's trouble was with his material, and his inability to hit it off with a backer and a producer of "All In Fun" . . . Pleading illness, he retired from the cast two nights after the revue opened . . . Meantime, hurry-up distress calls were being sounded in New York for a male replacement or a female "name" . . . George Jessel was one of those approached, and Mr. J. came to Boston . . . But to prove his disinterest in the proposition of replacing his friend, Mr. Baker, Mr. Jessel did not even attend the performance of "All In Fun" . . . He went instead to "Hi-Ya Gentlemen" . . . (And then he went to Palm Beach).

WITH PHIL ON THE SIDELINES for the time being, a new set of backers was found for "All In Fun" . . . (One is a prominent Newtonian) . . . Then Phil decided to protect his financial stake in the show and rejoin the cast—with fresh material in honor of the fresh money . . . Poor Maxie, the Great Big Baer, was having his own difficulties (and perhaps without being aware of them), at the Colonial . . . A perfect turmoil was raging over the fighter's marcelled head . . . It wasn't that Max was an unappealing performer that mitigated against his chances of staying in the promising show.

IT WAS MAXIE'S inability to grasp quickly enough the need of overnight changes in a show that "needed work" . . . It was an enormous strain on all directorial hands to perfect Mr. Baer in his varied chores—reading lines, learning songs, and memorizing dance routines and gestures . . . But once Maxie memorized a speech or learned a song or dance, that particular bit of business was his forevermore . . . And that was the trouble . . . The mere deletion of a superfluous speech was enough to upset the No. 1 Contender . . . As for changing entire speeches and bits of business—oh gosh! . . . The directors were tearing out their hair . . . So the facile and prac-

BOYER AND DEANNA IN 'ROMANCE'

By Louella O. Parsons

Charles Boyer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9.—At long last, the Charles Boyer-Deanna Durbin picture has been decided. The great French lover and the little singing star will be teamed in "Romance." Don't confuse the title with the famous old story Doris Keane played for years and which Greta Garbo made as a picture. Although the titles are the same, the Durbin-Boyer is an original by two writers on the Universal lot. Incidentally, "R" will give out its details about the story or treatment sometime tomorrow. It would reveal too much of the sensational plot hints. Seems all the studios are becoming secretive about stories lately.

Well, they can't keep us from guessing—and knowing Joe Pasternak for the smart showman he is, I'm betting the picture was revealed Deanna in her most revealing role to date. Remember that the little girl will be married to Virginia Paulson. In fact, this is to be her first picture after she becomes Mrs. Paul.

SOMEONE ALMOST like a pig when I received a wire on the 10th that David DeMille may step into the cameras to play the important role of Judge Coffey in his own picture "Up the Wall Wind." But far from a joke—Y. Frank Freeman is doing everything in his power to get C. B. to play the part. There's far more sense than nonsense in Paramount's offer to their star director. Not only is he one of the biggest names in the directorial field but C. B. is well known to millions of radio fans who listen to his weekly shows. His voice is excellent and he is definitely a personality. It would be a smart box-office move indeed to let the fans see him on the screen. He was an actor many years ago with E. H. Sothern's company and long ago C. B. once told me he was a "frustrated ham" at best.

VIRGINIA GILMORE wins the role of Bette Davis' daughter in "The Little Foxes" when Sam Goldwyn gets ready to start the cameras on his pet story. Virginia's contract is jointly shared by Sam and 20th Century-Fox and for the last year she's appeared exclusively in 20th pictures—"Western Union" and "Jenny." The role of the daughter in "Little Foxes" is so good that for a long time there was talk that Bette Davis would play both roles. But Sam decided against that.

NOW THAT I'VE had a moment to catch my breath and look back on our trip, I think the most important news I bring back to Hollywood is that the East is fired with enthusiasm—as it hasn't been in years—over the new movies. Everywhere we went movie theaters were playing to packed houses. "North West Mounted Police," "The Letter," "The Dictator," "Tin Pan Alley" and dozens of others are playing to standing lines outside—just like the good old days. Hollywood pessimists who thought the business was going to the dogs should have seen what we saw. True, the public is shopping around for its entertainment a little more carefully. It's no longer possible to give them any old thing and run away. I think the male star I was queried about most frequently was Jimmy Stewart. Lana Turner and Healy Lamarr, Bette Davis, Deanna Durbin, Ginger Rogers and Rex Russell shared the feminine fan interest.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: M-G-M is testing Diana Barrymore, John's daughter, now appearing on Broadway in "Romantic Mr. Dickens," for a movie job. Hear Dianne and Jawn have healed their rift since Elaine Barrie went out of his life; not everybody knows that Rita Hayworth was invited to the cocktail party Ann Sheridan tossed last week—but Rita couldn't accept because she's working in "Strawberry Blonde," the picture Annie was supposed to do; Talullah Bankhead is coming to the coast for a visit and may spend Christmas in Hollywood. John Emery can't come with her because he's in a New York show.

CARY GRANT is telling everyone who will listen that K. Hepburn should get the Academy Award for "Philadelphia Story" and if she doesn't it will be more than Cary can bear; Freddie Bartholomew has been squiring Benetta Lindsay, daughter of Judge Ben Lindsay, to the smart ice cream soda spots; hear that Billie Burke is opening shortly at the El Capitan in a revival of "The Marquise."

MATA HARRI'S Daughter

by MAURICE DEKOBRA and LEYLA GEORGIE

"ARE you sure I won't get the worst of the exchange?" Brinda sparred. "You shall judge," answered Vaslav. "But I do not play for low stakes—either in life or love. After all, it takes more than a few assassins to stamp out a dynasty."

His head went proudly back, and Brinda realized as she had never realized before, that whatever Vaslav's wins and shortcomings might be, he never forgot he was of royal blood. And also, that whatever he did, he would find adequate self-justification in the knowledge that he aimed at nothing less than a throne.

A man wearing a workman's cap approached.

"Your pardon?" Vaslav bowed, conferred briefly with the man, and returned. "I'm afraid you made me forget my mission. It was to warn you that there may be a few final changes in the steps—simple ones that will not be hard to follow. If so, I shall give you the necessary directions in time. Do you think you can manage it—even before an audience?"

"Unless they're very difficult," replied Brinda.

By this time, Vaslav had changed her movements from square to square so often that she knew each numbered square on the board by heart.

"Good! I'm counting on you. The others will be terrible. But the audience will forget them—watching you, my lovely ballerina!"

With another bow, he was gone. Only then did she realize she had neglected to ask him why the last-minute change was necessary.

Mme. Badoureff beckoned to her. "Look!" She indicated the peephole in the curtain. "The house is nearly full."

Brinda glared her eye to the aperture. People were still coming in. Would Dick be there? A coolness had come between them since his abrupt decision to accept the hospitality of Lord Mountwyn. And there had yet been no official intimation that he had broken his engagement to Lady Gladys.

Her glance roved the pit, then the boxes. She gasped. Lord Mountwyn! Seated beside him—Dick! And in the same box, the gaunt, straight figure of Sir John, the massive head and stocky shoulders of Doctor Macdonald!

A wave of happiness surged through her. Dick hadn't approved—but he had come to see her. And Sir John, too, in the midst of his responsibilities and cares, had remembered. But... where was Lady Gladys? And why hadn't any of them come backstage. Perhaps they would yet—Dick, if not the others.

"I think I'll go to my dressing room," she said audibly to Mme. Badoureff.

"By all means," responded the ballet mistress huskily. "It will be a half-hour before you come on, and you will need the rest, I think." As Brinda reached the narrow stairs leading to the dressing room, a slip of paper was thrust into her hand.

"From Prince Vaslav," said a man's voice that somehow rang a familiar, sinister note in her memory. She turned quickly, but the messenger had vanished.

A CODE MESSAGE:
In her dressing room, she opened the message. It was in Vaslav's arrogant scrawl: "Alfred One: There are the changes in steps I mentioned. I beg you to study them carefully. Much—the success of all—depends upon your following them exactly. I love you madly—Vaslav."

She crumpled the note angrily. Then she opened it again, smoothed it, and studied the new directions. "15, 4, 8, 9, 13, 22, 17..." There were two lines of them. She bit her lips furiously. How did Vaslav expect her to remember so many changes on short notice? Then, in imagination, she translated them into the jargon of chess, giving each square its proper title, and assigning to herself the role of Queen. "Queen to King's Bishop 4; Queen to Knight's 2; Queen to Rook's 5" ... she jotted down the moves to remember them better—for she knew chess as well as dancing, even though she had never let Vaslav suspect it.

"Oh!" she exclaimed. A word had suddenly leaped out at her from the paper—the single word: "READY." Coincidence?

Cardinal Asks Food Go to War Civilians

A plea that the blockade on foodstuffs to starving civilians of Europe's war be lifted was voiced by William Cardinal O'Connell at Holy Cross Cathedral in observing the 81st anniversary of his birth.

Boston's archbishop, in his annual birthday address to members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, entered an impassioned plea that innocent victims of the war be given relief at once.

The Cardinal had started to step from the altar when he suddenly returned to speak in behalf of civilians who are bearing the brunt of war suffering. He said:

"I can't help but feel a tremendous pity for the suffering people of Europe. It is certainly heartbreaking to think of them suffering, starving.

"I can't understand why Mr. Hoover's fine, generous plan for feeding the starving people of Europe should be opposed. I can't understand why the blockade can't be lifted in such a way that Mr. Hoover could get food to those starving people."

REALIZES PROBLEM

In touching upon the subject, Cardinal O'Connell indicated that he realized the issue was controversial, that he did not understand war and its workings, and that he hesitated to interfere in what might be the business of others.

"But," he insisted, "I can't understand why something can't be done to help those poor people. It is not their fault. Why can't we be allowed to help them in their moment of severest suffering?"

"I can only say as an humble priest of God, as a lover of the charity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, I can't understand why something can't be done to help Mr. Hoover in his fine, generous wonderful plan to feed the starving people of Europe, the civic population of Europe."

NOT THEIR FAULT

"Pray for those poor people," he urged. "May God help them! They are suffering untold hardship through no fault of theirs. May God bring it to a speedy end."

Cardinal O'Connell lauded members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society for their love of the poor which, he said, was the most beautiful of all Christian virtues.

The American people he declared, are the most generous the most warmhearted in the world and have demonstrated it again and again.

Urging that the poor be given kind words and spiritual encouragement as well as material aid, the Cardinal said: "Often they are down at heart as well as down at heel. They feel abandoned, deserted, hopeless. Sometimes they need a kind word as much as anything else."

NEW REVUES FOR COCOANUT GROVE AND MAYFAIR

Cain's Marine Lounge Proves Popular Spot

By SAM BERENSON

The Cave, peg-leg pirate and all, opens its door to the town folk in the 19th . . . this club, featuring a swashbuckling gaiety that galabouts should find irresistible, shapes up as a smash success from the start . . .

It was Zito and his band, the "It's the World's Fair" exhibit, that provide the rhythm for the "dink-dreting" here. . . Charlie Carnet, who has been making headlines in entertainment news through his late squabbles with Jim Petrillo, union bizzle, now shares the society columns. . . Charlie just married his valet, Harriet Clark, in Miami. . . That sleek drummer man Lou Carter, has been providing the dance minded with a top notch attraction at the Casa Manana. . . the sensational stick whirling of this lad is the talk of the town, and Dick Brown should long stay in the black with an off-lying such as Carter and his band. . . particularly since they fore-front so consistently a smart Casa floor attraction.

A new and sparkling floor show

"I wuz thinkin'..."
by IZZY ORT

The way the world is going today, who knows who is better off? I wuz thinkin' about that just a few minutes ago when I wuz readin' about some dancers who once appeared before the crowned heads of Europe.

Well, take the gals who dance in my Grill on Essex Street, the famous Old Ballet. They've danced more in the ball heads of Europe and the low necks of any other kind of heads. But, who would say is they kick and strut across the stage of an evening that they are missing anything, becuz they didn't appear before any dukes and emes. They are famous and famous is just the same.

Up in the El Tropico Room I've got a certain planker in the Cuban orchestra who wuz almost a general, or a one-han, once down in the tropics. He looks anything but unhappy when the folks are swined in a general, or a one-han, like he has it better in the El Tropico Room. I wuz thinkin' about the best work I ever saw—The Duke of Essex Street—but I wuz thinkin' down.

Hey! You fellows of good music! Don't forget the music of the New England folk, for on so many a day it is played with Chuck Hays and his Glee Club of South Shore in the Glee every afternoon.

You've all knowed how over with an I wuz thinkin' new when I thought Jack Dempsey should into my life. Who was it but Wally Fitzgerald, the glamour boy from New York, who danced for Jack in the MGM picture, "Big City". I wuz thinkin' that Paulie has been reminding the local music stores for some time the Christmas and New Year's cards he plays to pop along. That's the talk of the village. See you next week, Aye.

A bold memo to the Rialto set convinces those Thursday theatrical guest nights at the Coconut Grove—one of the smartest offerings this village can put before a patron. . . while the Grovian razzle-dazzle which paws into the Grove this evening again combines a sparkle and thrill-packed variety desirable. . . a truly gay take-in. . . Red Nichols has returned to New York, with the expectation of forming a new band. . . if this crew lives up to the Nichols aggregations of long ago, then 3 long huzzahs.

Variety entertainment blends into a colorful revue this week at the Latin Quarter where musical comedy star, Jere McMahon, shows his twinkling toes in the current

Dick is swinging his baten despite a pair of fractured ribs and a sprained wrist, results of an auto crash early this month.

At Harry Sher's Silver Dollar, a wealth of name talent, charming girls and music aplenty. . . this week's show direct from New York features many of the leading club performers and will be presented four times nightly in the Blue room . . . continuous entertainment and dancing from noon on. . . it will be Ma and Hazel Green producing the new colored revue at the Cafe Hotel Westminster for the week of Wednesday. . . the Green takes know their business well and will give the Rialto something to talk about once they get started.

Alpine celebrates its 13th anniversary this week, throughout which time this smart salon has been under the same management . . . and so big doings for the fortnight in a holiday spirit floor show. . . the Eddie Watson boys for the cheek to cheek stuff. . . Maybe you'd just as soon the kid next door would break his trombone but nevertheless Colgate University is including the Duke Ellington swingsters this week in a concert series. . . after Ellington comes the Philadelphia Symphony and Paul Robeson. . . Cappy's will have special rooms for its New Year's parties. . . reservations are already coming into this gay North Boston parlor and a bang up holiday lies in the offing. . . Nice things on at Dorgan's Old Harbor House. . . always plenty of rapid action here and entertainment which is luring an ever increasing number of customers. . . a pleasant spot. . . and Charles Collins are exceptionally well received in their humorous dance interpretations on Victor Herbert's "Al Fresco," Raymond Scott's "Dance of the Penguins" and an Irish medley . . . others on the bill are Jackson, Stone and Reeves, Alice Langford, Ranny Weeks in popular songs; George Libby's Girls in a beautiful tan number and a novelty with dancing dolls.

A thrilling spot is the new Marine Cocktail Lounge at Cain's in Weymouth . . . breathtakingly beautiful . . . but the emphasis here still lies on those delightfully prepared lobsters in the main dining room . . . Arthur Wells, bossman here, is to be complimented on the grand job he has done.

The name of Juby Foo still is top ranking, for at the Crown Hotel, in Providence is the famed Peach combor with its Hawaiian motif . . . while right here in town is the Den which needs no introduction (only maybe a few more tables for after theater crowds . . . One of our favorite bands has just cut one of our favorite records for you. And we pass this nifty one to you; Benny Carter and "All o Me" . . . Dreamworld Hall in Egypt hold its ranking position with diners out . . . The food here is always delicious, amply attested by ever increasing numbers of out-of-town guests . . . Saturday evening dancing.

OPENING TONIGHT
PLYMOUTH—"OLD ACQUAINTANCE." Dwight Dierie Wiman's production of John van Druten's latest comedy in which Jane Cowl and Peggy Wood have been added. It is Mr. van Druten's 18th play, and the 5th to be produced under Mr. Wiman's regis. In addition to Miss Cowl and Miss Wood, the supporting cast includes Kent Smith, Larry Jones, Adele Longmire, Edith West and Anna Franklin. Elmore Whorf contributed the set designs. Auriel Lee, who has directed the last 10 of Mr. van Druten's plays, will perform the same service in this production.

SHUBERT—"ALL IN FUN," the Bill Robinson-starring musical revue with a cast headed by Eugene Coca, Pert Kelton, Red Marshall, Rosita Moreno, Bill Johnson, Puk Paaris and others.

Leonard Sillman the producer has extended the booking through Saturday night, when the production will be transferred directly to Broadway. For the final week in the Hub new sketches will be added and several new personalities will be introduced into the cast.

COLONIAL—"HI-YA, GENTLEMEN," new musical comedy with Max Baer, Audrey Christie, Sid Silvers, Ella Logan, Erik Rhodes and Christina Lind and a company including 40 blonde and brunette beauties, continues through Saturday night

CIVIC REPERTORY— "LIFE WITH FATHER," co-starring Louis Calhern and Dorothy Gish, continues to sell out audiences Oscar Serlin's production of the Howard Lindsay-Russel Crouse adaptation of Clarence Day's celebrated stories of the '40's is now in its third month.

After due deliberation on the part of Moss Hart, Kurt Weill, Ira Gershwin and the Sam H. Harris office it has been decided to substitute "Lady in the Dark"—the new Gertrude Lawrence piece now in rehearsal—a musical play.

The object of the deliberations was having the play confused in the public mind with a musical comedy or a play with just incidental music. According to Hart, the musical portions of "Lady in the Dark" are "an integral part of the play and serve to carry the story forward. They are by no means incidental or unimportant."

In response to the public demand for seats to "Life With Father" as Christmas gifts, the Oscar Reppin management will now send a Merry Christmas gift envelope in which seats to America's favorite comedy may be enclosed. Managers, it has been discovered, prefer to send their friends and family the play "Life With Father" after Christmas.

As one gentleman explained the ticket seller at the Comedy Repertory Theater, "If someone can put you into the 'Life With Father' Christmas gift 'Life With Father' envelope, it's a Christmas gift to me."

White Pomade For the Lips

By ARLINE GOULD
CHAPPED or wind-roughened lips are worse than uncomfortable... they're aging. And many a young mouth isn't given a chance to counteract the undoubted slight drying effect of much lipstick, so it soon doesn't look smooth and tempting any more, but harsh and crinkled.

You needn't coat your lips with some greasy emulsion to keep them youthfully soft and full... there's a marvelous white pomade... that's quite unnoticeable... and you get a big, jumbo slick, chastely increased in white and silver... for $1. Indeed, so simply is it done up that the outdoor man in your life will appreciate having it to counteract the zing winds, and prevent his own lips from chapping and cracking.

It can be more than a matter of protecting lip tissues. Some girls are, unfortunately, allergic to the coloring matter in lipsticks and must use them very carefully. This white pomade will solve the problem, because it is so very healing, and coats the lips with a fine, invisible film. Just use a tiny bit of it under the lip rouge.

For supreme flattery from your favorite lip tones, to make your lips look very silken and lustrous, use the white pomade as a base in the same manner as the allergic example is advised to do.

You want unit in from your nightly routine, once you've discovered how beautiful it makes your mouth look.

If you'd like to learn all about this fine white pomade for protecting and giving you the lustrous, smooth, youthful look to the lips... phone Arline Gould, LIBERTY 4300, week-days, except Saturday, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

OUTDOOR GIRLS... like Anne Shirley, in her new skiing outfit... need something besides rouge to keep lips from chapping... and today Arline Gould suggests a special white pomade which is ideal. It's perfectly formulated to keep lips from becoming dry and harsh, and keeps them youthfully satin-smooth.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Monday, Dec. 9

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You of this birthday are outspoken, sometimes unwittingly curt; honest in purpose and word, a trait to be well protected. Executive ability. Independent, cheerful, sympathetic, upright. Do depend always upon God and the blessings with which He has endowed you. Business activity dominant. Be observing. Take diversion in sensible doses only. Unnecessary criticizing is taboo. Indecision and inactivity may tempt. And avoid any selfish outlooks.

LUCKY NUMBER—Today's lucky number is 42.
LUCKY COLOR—Today's lucky color is purple.

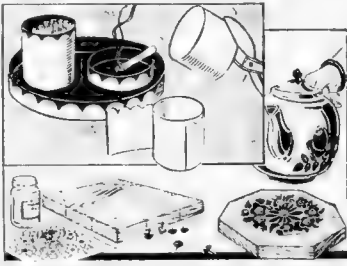

Send 15 cents and large self-addressed stamped envelope to Frances Drake, Boston Evening American, Box 226, Boston, for an individual horoscope, personal guide and lucky calendar for the last six months of 1940, giving the day and month you were born.

Solve Late Gift Problem

What if Christmas is just around the corner? In a jiffy you can make a host of stunning gifts to fill last-minute gaps on your list.

Just the ticket for some modern-minded friend is one expensive-looking smoking set which you can make easily, at little cost, from three tin cans! Or give a home-lover the gay tea tile—just a piece of wood, tacks and paint. With heavy shears or tin snips you cut down your three cans to the right sizes for a tray, a cigarette holder and an ash tray. Make a paper pattern for each, scalloping the top edge with a coin as a guide. Then coat the entire outside of each can with enamel paint in turquoise and, when dry, hold paper pattern around can and draw scallops. Paint part above scallops and inside of can dark blue.

As for the tea tile—that's easy as pie, too. Cut off the four corners of a square block of wood, as shown by dotted lines in diagram, and draw the pretty floral design on the surface, copying a pattern. Then paint your flowers with snow-drift paint in light colors—pink, yellow and blue—and stain sides and bottom green.

SMOKING SET, TEA TILE IN NEW BOOKLET

A few coats of shellac, a handful of upholsterer's tacks stuck in flower centers and your tile is finished. Glue a piece of felt to bottom as tile won't slip.

Our 4-page booklet, new ideas for handmade gifts. Has complete directions for the smoking set and tea tile. A set of novelty match boxes, cigar coasters, quilt foot warmers, undraped tray, many more—practical and inexpensive made. Send 15 cents in coins for our booklet, new ideas for handmade gifts. Boston Evening American, Home Institute, 139 West 14th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Potato Recipe That Please

By MARTA LEE

At their present reasonable price this is a good time to lay in a supply of potatoes for winter storage for, normally, potato prices tend to become higher after the middle of December.

Not only is the quality of our native potatoes particularly good this year, but New England grown potatoes are noted for their good keeping characteristics. If placed in a cool cellar, at a temperature just above freezing, they will be just as good a few months from now as they are when you buy them.

Now that colder weather is coming on, you will want to serve more potatoes.

STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

9 baked potatoes
1/2 cup minced onion
3 tbsp. butter
3 cups minced cooked ham
1 tbsp. minced parsley
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/2 cup well seasoned thick white sauce

6 thin slices American cheese
Scrub the potatoes and bake for one hour or until tender. Sauté the onion in butter until soft. Add with ham, parsley and paprika to the white sauce. Cut a slice off the top of potato lengthwise and scoop out contents, leaving about 1/4 inch of potato in shell. Prepare as mashed potatoes. Fill the shells at least half full with the ham mixture. Place the mashed potatoes on top, but don't pack them down. Cover with cheese and stuffing is heated through. Makes nine servings.

CHEESE POTATO SOUFFLE

2 cups mashed potatoes
3 eggs, separated
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. white pepper
1/2 cup grated cheese
Combining hot mashed potato, well beaten egg yolks and seasonings, add 1/2 cup grated cheese and last fold in lightly the stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in a greased pan and sprinkle remaining cheese over the top. Bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) in a baking dish in a pan containing an inch of hot water, 25 to 30 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

POTATO MUFFINS

4 tbsp. fat
2 tbsp. sugar
1 egg
1 cup mashed potato
1 cup milk
2 cups sifted flour
3 tab. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
Cream fat and sugar. Add egg, well beaten, then potato. Mix thoroughly. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add milk and flour and beat until smooth. Bake

You can get a personal loan of $20 to $300 at Household Finance at rates substantially below the usual maximum—if you can repay in small monthly installments.

See the sample loans and payment plans in the table. (Loans also made in other amounts and for other purposes.) Payments in the table repay everything. Household rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100.

and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100 is less than the maximum permitted by the Small Loan Law and is the same to everyone.

"I needed $130"

"I needed $130 pronto, but was afraid that a chauffeur like myself might not be able to get a loan for that much—or that the payments would be too big for me to handle."

"However I got to talking with one of the fellows at the garage who had a loan at The Personal Finance Company. He told me I probably could get the cash OK and that eight dollars and seventy-four cents a month would be all I'd have to repay on $130."

"I stopped in a nearby Personal office that afternoon and got the loan without any trouble."

"More than two-thirds the people we serve come to us through the recommendations of our customers."

EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1930

By WALTER KILEY

The New England All-America amateur boxing championships, the annual carnival of ring fury which jams thrills into every minute of battling, will lure the greatest gallery of Boston's indoor season to the Garden this evening.

For months on end an army of crack simon-pures have been training faithfully for tonight's bouts.

Through the process of tryout eliminations, only the most talented fighters have survived.

Briefly, the facts on tonight's show follow:

PLACE—Boston Garden.

SHOW STARTS—7:30 p. m.

NUMBER OF BOUTS—29 (24 open, 5 novice).

NUMBER OF FIGHTERS—42 (33 open, 10 novice).

SPONSORS—Boston American Daily Record and Irish-American J. A.

PRICES—55 cents and $1.10.

WINNERS—Qualify for Eastern All-America Championships at Boston Garden, Monday, Dec. 23.

BEST CROP EVER

Old-timers insist the principals on this evening's program are the finest group of boxers in New England amateur history.

They claim many of the boys will graduate into professional fame and fortune.

It is a fitting tribute to the performers that world heavyweight champion, Joe Louis will participate in the role of referee. The "Brown Bomber," will take time out in his training for his title bout with Al McCoy at the Garden on December 16, to act as third man in one of the evening's early bouts.

A second world heavyweight titleholder will likewise do referee honors, much later in the evening. Ex-Champion, Maxie Baer will rush from his performance as star in the musical "Hi Ya, Gentlemen!" at the Colonial Theater, to officiate in the finals.

To a great majority of New England fans the occasion will mark the first opportunity to see Louis, whose one and only Boston appearance was in amateur competition.

Unknown then, in 1923, and his talents unrecognized, Joe was beaten in the quarter-finals of the

Jack Conway Scoops Boston Again on Bees

The Boston Sunday Advertiser in an exclusive story by Jack Conway revealed that Alvin Powell of New Haven had come to terms with Charles F. Adams and Bruce Wilmore and would be the new owner of the Bees.

Monday morning newspapers, after interviewing Powell and Adams, confirmed the Sunday Advertiser's story.

This was merely another sports scoop for the Sunday Advertiser-American-Record combination.

Springfield Win Faces Protest

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 9 (AP)—Manager Herbie Lewis of the Indianapolis Capitals said he would protest today to President Maurice Podoloff of the American Hockey League the Springfield Indians' 3 to 0 victory over the Caps here last night.

Lewis objected to a ruling by Referee C. S. Campbell disallowed an Indianapolis goal scored by Carl Liscombe early in the third period. The puck went through the net just after Campbell blew his whistle to call on Charlie Mason of Springfield for hooking.

Hank Luisetti Reinstated

DENVER, Dec. 9 (INS)—Overriding committee recommendation, the Amateur Athletic Union would up its 52d convention by surprisingly retaining the metric system for the outdoor national track and field and swimming championships and by reinstating Angelo "Hank" Luisetti, former Stanford All-American coper, who had been banished a year.

Philadelphia was picked for next year's convention. But J. J. Benedetto of New Orleans was re-elected as president.

Other officers predicted were J. Lyman Flanagan of the assistant to the president; Fred L. Steers of Chicago, first vice president; James M. Boice of New Haven, C., second vice president, and Daniel J. Fennell of New York City, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

JOE LOUIS AND Max Baer will not meet when they go to the Garden tonight to referee in the New England finals of the All-America diamond belt boxing championships. . . This will be due to the fact Louis will referee a bout that will enter the ring at about 8:45 p. m., after which he will hurry to his quarters at Green Acres for a night's rest, while Baer will not arrive at the Garden until shortly after 11:30 p. m. due to his appearance in "Hi-Ya, Gentlemen!" at the Colonial Theater.

Louis has been training at Johnny Buckley's Gym for the past week for his 15-round title bout with Al McCoy which will be held at the Garden a week from tonight, and those persons who see him at the All-America bouts tonight will be impressed by his fine physical condition. . . Baer also looks physically fit, and believes he can beat Louis. . . If Louis keeps winning, Matchmaker "Rip" Valenti will give him an opportunity to prove whether he can do so at a ball park show here next summer.

Gene Driscoll says the boxers who will appear in the Garden ring tonight are the finest group of All-America ring stars he has ever seen. . . Battles in open and novice classes should be replete with thrills. . . The first bout will start at 7:30 p. m. because of the lengthy program scheduled.

This is the best sports bargain of the year. . . Forty-two carefree boxers tossing punches with Joe Louis and Max Baer as referees. . . At bargain prices of 55 cents and $1.10. . . The Garden with its 18,000 seats offers a fitting setting for the big show.

"I am glad to give my services as referee for the All-America show," Louis told this writer. . . "It was due to my appearance in amateur tournaments that I got my start as a boxer. . . I shall always feel the A. A. U. through its boxing division did much to help me up the ladder of success."

Julian Black, co-manager with John Roxborough, and Jack Blackburn will be at the Garden with Louis tonight.

Jack Sharkey was also tendered an invitation to referee tonight, but was unable to accept it on account of an engagement to referee in Montreal. . . Sharkey will be a third man in the ring at the Eastern finals of the All-America tournament at the Garden on December 23.

Blackburn's Busy Ring Program

COMING TO BOSTON with Joe Louis, Jack Blackburn has returned to the scenes of some of his best boxing bouts. . . Blackburn once fought Jimmy Gardner, Jack (Twin) Sullivan and Sam Langford in local rings within a period of ten days. . . Blackburn was an exceptionally skillful boxer and seldom met with serious injuries while in the ring.

Blackburn is in complete charge of Louis' training for his tussle with McCoy.

"Julian Black and myself leave the question of training to Jack Blackburn," Co-Manager John Roxborough told me. . . "Blackburn lives with me during a training period, knows Joe's every mood and is best qualified to regulate his training."

Following his appearance at the All-America tournament tonight, Louis will get down to the last stages of his training for his meeting with Al McCoy. . . Al is working at Leo Sullivan's gym in New York where he has the benefit of a fine staff of sparring partners. . . McCoy will be in the best condition of his career when he meets Louis. . . Al is one heavyweight who hasn't any fear of the "Brown Bomber."

Boston College Eleven Faces Training

THE BOSTON College eleven has had its vacation, and today got down to the serious business of getting ready for its New Year's Day game with Tennessee. . . An idea of how highly Tennessee is rated may be gained from the fact the Southern eleven is a 9 to 5 choice in the first betting. . . There is a great deal of Tennessee money in town, some of which has been sent in from New Orleans. . . In New Orleans there is a dearth of B. C. money. . . This is to be expected at this early date. . . The large flood of Tennessee money may drive the price to 2 to 1.

Football games are not won by betting prices. . . It may be helpful to the chances of the Boston College eleven for it to enter the Sugar Bowl game on the short end of the betting. . . This will impress upon the players the strength of the opposition.

"Boston College cannot make a mistake and beat Tennessee," Dick Harlow told Henry Toczykowski and Frank Leahy at a recent football luncheon.

Items from My Private Notebook

THERE WILL BE 3500 Boston College rooters who will make the trip to the Sugar Bowl game. . . Most of these football enthusiasts will leave for New Orleans a few days after Christmas. . . Some of the rooters will go to Florida before returning home. . . Florida looks forward to its greatest rush of tourists.

National Amateurs by Max March a Chicago light heavy.

From that humble beginning Louis went on to scale the dizzy heights, and his appearance in the Garden ring tonight will serve as an inspiration to the scores of youngsters who will be hoping to emulate his success.

ONE DEFENDING CHAMP
Each of the open contestants will appear twice, in a semi-final and final. The novices will make the one showing in the finals of the five divisions to be decided.

While there is only one defending champion on the program, there will be two other 1939 New England All-America champions attempting to win further laurels in higher classes.

Tony Peppi, sensational North End youngster, will seek to repeat his 1939 victory in the flyweight division.

Francis Leonard, two-listed Taunton schoolboy, won the 119 a year ago and tests late in the 126's.

Roxbury Bill Daley, king of the 126 a year back, took no chances with weight in this year's flyouts.

He convincingly qualified at 126 pounds and then, lest he might be overweight tonight, returned a week later and proved equally as impressive in dominating the 135's.

Neither Peppi, Leonard nor Daley will find the going easy. The North End will be pressed by Lawrence Johnny Griffin, one of the ablest of the little fellows, Brockton Tommy Luckman, and Boston's Eddie Santos, all amateurs.

Leonard's troubles are biewing.

TOMMY LUCKMAN

when he stacks up against Jackie Heard of Boston, Ralph Vian of Providence and Al Steiza of Boston, youngsters whose appetites were whetted by knockout wins in the flyouts.

Daley's task is even more formidable, with Steve Roman and Francis Welch of Lowell and Orlando Clifton of East Boston offering the opposition.

Among the contenders would be the "Golden Boy" Andrews of Lowell, who made an immense impression in the 147-pound flyouts. But the handsome Dave will need to be better than ever to knock off Fred Earle of Squanville, Wilfred Buckless of Saugus and Guy Fusello of Boston.

The possibilities in the middle-weight situation have had the fans around ever since Tommy Hill, Lowell southpaw, knocked out Larry Pacino of Roxbury after Hill had five times blooded the canvas in the second round. They will both be in there tonight.

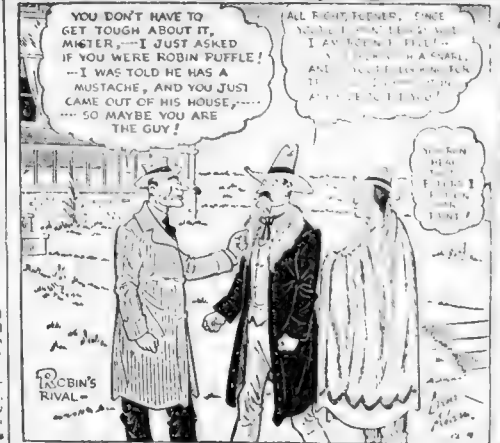

And so will Sal Cesario, who swears he's better than either of them. And Jim Harvey of South Boston, who hits like a mule.

DEVINE HEAVY CHARGE
South Boston supporters will back Tommy Sullivan to the limit in the light-heavy division.

The Southie fish packer was top man in the Massachusetts State and Golden Gloves championships this year. Leo Frontzelli of Framingham, Manuel Baptiste of Taunton and John Lopes of New Bedford will do the forcing.

The heavyweights offer endless action. They are all big and powerful, with Pat Devine of Cambridge generally favored to win over huge Bill Dupee of Cambridge, Esterino Cimino of Providence and Howard Thompson of Saugus.

YOU'LL HEAR MORE ABOUT the goal which tied up the Bruins-Toronto game when Art Ross gets back from Chicago. Foster Hewitt, Canadian broadcaster, who calls them as he sees them, declared the puck was deflected into the E's cage off Gordie Drillon.

Joe Cronin and Eddie Collins are off for the Chicago baseball meeting. Having made public their intentions, they've got to get rid of Roger "Doc" Cramer. . . One of our baseball experts must have confused Cramer with Carvel Rowell. He referred to Hanna as a "banjo" hitter.

On Wednesday, in the City of Brotherly love, the Very Reverend William J. Murphy, S. A stenographic assistant (football manager) A. B. C. recently inquired of John F. Curley, if he could accompany the Eagles to Bay St. Louis and New Orleans, if he paid his own expenses. . . Win Green, Brown and Red Sox trainer, is anxious to get in touch with Walter Randall. . . Realizing that they must pull together at the league will fall apart, the N. H. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Chicago's powerful Bears today won the first of two games in a remarkable comeback from the Washington Redskins in the annual game of the year.

Chicago's powerful Bears today won the first of two games in a remarkable comeback from the Washington Redskins in the annual game of the year.

Not content with the 73-0 victory, the Bears today won the first of two games in a remarkable comeback from the Washington Redskins in the annual game of the year.

11 FOOTBALLS LOST

Even the record for lost footballs was broken. When they are kicked into the stands in a football game, they do not come back and after the Bears had scored nine times, 11 footballs had been removed from circulation.

Another record exceeded was on the financial side. The cash customers' outlay of a net $102,250 contributed to a players' pool of $31,502.40, providing $823.99 for each winning player, and $626.25 for each loser.

There was no doubt that it was to be a Chicago day as soon as the first period started. On the second play from scrimmage, when the game was less than a minute old, Ed Osinski ran 68 yards for the first touchdown of the day.

The Redskins were in the game briefly, getting as far as the four-yard line but the attack bogged down and the Bears started another march.

Two tight Washington's five-man line with running plays using only one pass in the parade to Washington's one-yard line, Sid Luckman plunged over from there, and the game was only 13 minutes old.

When Chicago scored again two minutes later, after a partially blocked punt placed them in good position, they had made the one-time record of counting every time they took the ball.

SOLVE DEFENSE

The second period, in the light of events going before and to come, was almost a total loss for the Bears as they could score only once, this touchdown coming on a sensational catch in the end zone by Ken Kavanagh, with Luckman throwing from the 20-yard line.

The Bears started the second half with a score in 59 seconds of play, Hampton Pool grabbing a Washington pass in the flat and running 15 yards over the goal line.

From this point on, everything the Redskins did was wrong. Pass interceptions led to Chicago touchdowns and a fumble on the goal line, recovered by the gigantic Jack Tortorella, meant another score.

Stoughton, Canton Best Of Friends

The athletic relationships between Stoughton and Canton High, which have been so friendly over a period of 15 years, will continue to remain so.

There is not any truth to the report that Stoughton authorities told Canton that if it did not play football last Saturday future football relationships would cease between the two schools.

Stoughton High authorities let it be known today that they have never considered any break with Canton, and intend to continue their close relationship with their old rival.

Canton High officials also emphasized the friendly feelings existing between the two schools.

Stoughton has had a successful football season despite the loss to Canton on Saturday by the close score of 6 to 0.

The football field for Saturday's game was in fair condition and fit for a game.

Pictures of the Belmont-Watertown game of Dec. 7 will also be shown. The squad and coaches, Joseph Murphy and his assistant, James Sheehan, will be given presentations.

LEAHY EXPECTS B. C. IN TOP FORM FOR SUGAR BOWL GAME WITH VOLTS

By BILL GRIMES

After a one-week lay off, the Boston College Eagles, who face Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans on New Year's Day, were to report for practice to Head Coach Frank W. Leahy today at The Heights.

"I hope the players are feeling better than I am," declared Leahy this morning, while scanning his mail in the coaches' dressing room.

"Between testimonial banquets and traveling hither and yon, I feel as if I was going to be kille."

"That was a tough league we played in last week, and it probably took more out of us than the Georgetown, Auburn and Holy Cross game."

FAIRLY START HELPS

Leahy was in a huddle with his assistants this morning.

Johnny Druze, who spent his leave of absence at his home in Lexington, N. J., returned last night, and Joe McCardia pulled out of Lowell at an early hour to keep the appointment. Old reliable Ed McKeever also was very much on the job as usual.

"We have a very tough assignment facing us," declared Leahy when queried on the outcome of the Sugar Bowl game, "and, sad to relate, we haven't much time to get ready."

"As you know," he went on, "we play the Vols three weeks from Wednesday. A blizzard such as struck here a year ago, when we were preparing for the Cotton Bowl game with Clemson, would ruin our chances of victory."

"I'm certainly pleased that the authorities here at the College have agreed to allow us to start for Bay St. Louis next week. Ten days at St. Stanislaus College will be of the greatest benefit, providing, of course, the practice field is solid soil and not sandy."

"During my spare moments since the Holy Cross game, I've spent considerable time studying Tennessee's style of play. I've been fortunate in having some close friends, who've followed the Vols this season."

"They have conveyed to me valuable data concerning Major Bob Neyland's boys. From what I've gathered Tennessee is good, very good."

"Naturally I'm not making any predictions as to the outcome of the game. But I will say that Boston College, unless I'm badly mistaken will be in better mental condition for the New Year's Day clash than it was when it faced Holy Cross.

MENTAL HANDICAP

"The players were under terrific pressure going into the Holy Cross game. They'd beaten no less than nine opponents, including such outstanding teams as Tulane, Temple, Georgetown and Auburn."

"There were scareheads in all of the newspapers that B. C. was headed for the Rose Bowl, the Sugar Bowl and that this and that player couldn't miss All-America honors."

"The players are just boys. They weren't accustomed to headlines and feature stories. So, naturally, they read as many as they chanced to see. If they missed any, some student or alumnus would make it a point to call their attention to the other laudatory tales, which came off the presses."

IN TULANE FORM

"Therefore, when they went out on the playing field at Fenway Park to meet the Crusaders, the players' minds were not concentrated on Holy Cross, they were thinking in terms of All-America honors and bowl games. And, there was nothing I could do about it."

"And because their minds were divided, the Eagles received a strenuous going over from the Crusaders."

"The Sugar Bowl game is a post-season tilt. It will be a battle between the only undefeated and untied major eleven in the South and the North."

"The traditions, which go hand in hand with every Boston College-Holy Cross game, will not be in evidence, so the pressure should be less, and I believe that with nothing on their minds other than a victory over Tennessee, Boston College will play a brand of football comparable to that which it did last September against the Tulane 'Greenies.'"

"But, in order to do that," Leahy concluded, "we must have the local weatherman singing 'For Boston' until we depart for Mississippi, one week from Wednesday."

'Ice-Capades' Off for Quebec

"Ice-Capades of 1911," which completed a successful five-day stay in Boston, entrained today for Quebec where it will fulfill a week's engagement.

Following the stay there, the musical ice company moves on to the Montreal Forum for another week's showing and then heads back across the border to Springfield, Mass.

The ice carnival, sponsored by rink managers of the East, played to more than 45,000 spectators during the seven performances at the Garden, five evenings and two matinees.

Lois Dworschak, the Duluth, Minn., college girl who introduced rhythm on skates, completely stole the Sabbath evening performance which drew 10,000 paying customers.

Bruins Fly to Boston After Chicago Defeat

Boston Bruins arrive at the East Boston airport early to night and they won't look very happy as they go to their respective hotels.

They were flying this p. m. from Chicago where they were defeated by the Hawks, 3-2, in overtime, and bumped out of third place in the process. The night before they lost to Toronto.

Today they were in fourth place in the league standings with the Hawks one point above them. Tomorrow they face the Rangers at the Garden and if they lose that one they'll sink to fifth place, inasmuch as the Rangers are now only one point behind.

The Chicago defeat was a heart breaker because the Bruins came from behind in the third period to tie the count at 2-2.

Less than three minutes remained in the extra session when Cully Dahlstrom, assisted by Joe Cooper and John Chad, scored the winning tally. A crowd of 16,412, largest of the season, attended.

Half way through the opening stanza Woody Dumart put Boston into a 1 to 0 lead with an unassisted goal, but at 18:20 Dahlstrom tied the game up. Johnny Gottselig and Quad were credited with assists. Doug Bentley, with his brother, Max, and Bill Thome collaborating, gave the Hawks a 2 to 1 lead late in the second period. The Hawks remained ahead until 3:17 of the third period, when Des Smith again tied the score. Flash Hollett and Herb Cain gave assists.

Tonight's game was the first of the year for the veteran Gottselig, who has been in the role of coach.

John E. Warner Shows Max Baer the Way to Knock Out Baldness

BOSTON, Dec. 8 (INS) — Max Baer, former world's heavyweight champion and present foremost contender, is now featured in the hit musical comedy, "Hi Ya, Gentlemen," at the Colonial Theatre. Max realizes that to any man in the public eye, a good head of hair is a real asset. As he has so many other leaders in the business, professional, and theatrical worlds, he consults John E. Warner and associates, the foremost hair and scalp specialists of today. Leading scientific authorities agree that 85% of all baldness can be prevented if properly treated in time, but once baldness has arrived hair can never be regrown (except in rare cases of alopecia areata). Thousands of satisfied clients say that the Warner method of treatment has cleared up the source of their scalp troubles and saved their hair after all other methods had failed. Naturally we are quite proud of this fine recommendation. It gives us the right to say that we can help you, too, if we accept your case for treatment. The office of John E. Warner and associates are conveniently located at 515 Washington Street, near the corner of West Street (opposite R. H. White's). Hours, 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily—Saturday to 6 P. M. Red Sox Bid For Pytlak

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (INS)—The advance guard of American and National Baseball League owners and managers arrived in Chicago today in preparation for the opening of the annual winter meetings, which will get under way officially at noon tomorrow.

Because of the dearth of actual major league trading at the minor league session in Atlanta, Ga., last week, all indications pointed to extensive swapping deals this week.

Few of the managers and owners already on the scene expressed themselves as being satisfied with the playing strength of their teams.

Boston's Red Sox were on the hunt for a catcher, and had their eye on Frankie Pytlak of Cleveland.

Del Baker, manager of the Detroit Tigers, came to Chicago with the expressed hope that the American League will rescind its ruling which bars the league champion from trading with other teams.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Scoring four times in the third period, the Boston Olympics trounced the injured New York Rovers 5-2 in an Eastern Amateur Hockey League game before 13,500 spectators.

The Rovers scored the first tally of the afternoon when Larry Sharest netted the disc in 7:33 of the second period. Boston matched this with a marker by John Fitzgerald before the session ended. From there on it was all Boston. Gerry Desrosiers paced the attack with two goals, Bob Jeremiah and Paul Guilford notched the other pair. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Chicago's powerful Bears today rule the football roost, thanks to a record-breaking 73-to-0 rout of the Washington Redskins in the annual playoff for the National League title.

The Big Bears, opening up with a touchdown in the first 59 seconds of the game, proceeded to pour it on with a vengeance as 36,034 spectators, who paid more than $100,000, looked on in amazement under a warm December sun.

Early in the first half the playoff mark of 30 points, made by the New York Giants against the Bears in 1934, was tossed into the discard, and an all-time figure of 61 points compiled by Philadelphia against Cincinnati was wiped out later.

Not content, the lusty Bears lambasted other records.

11 FOOTBALLS LOST

Even the record for lost footballs was broken. When they are kicked into the stands in pro football they do not come back and after the Bears had scored nine times, 11 footballs had been removed from circulation.

Another record exceeded was on the financial side. The cash customers' outlay of a net $102,250 contributed to a players' pool of $51,522.50, providing $873.99 for each winning player, and $626.25 for each loser.

There was no doubt that it was to be a Chicago day as the Bears won the first period straight. On the second play from scrimmage, when the game was less than a minute old, Bill Osmanski ran 68 yards for the first touchdown of the day.

The Redskins were in the game briefly, getting as far as the foe's 20-yard strip but the attack bogged down and the Bears started another March.

They rattled Washington's five-man line with running plays, using only one pass in the parade to Washington's one-yard line. Sid Luckman plunged over from there, and the game was only 10 minutes old.

When Chicago scored again two minutes later, after a partially blocked punt placed them in good position, they had made the sensational record of counting every time they took the ball.

SOLVE DEFENSE

The second period, in the light of events going before and to come, was almost a total loss for the Bears as they could score only once, this touchdown coming on a sensational catch in the end zone by Ken Kavanaugh, with Luckman throwing from 30 yards.

The Bears started the second half with a score in 50 seconds of play, Hampton Pool grabbing a Washington pass in the flat and running 15 yards over the goal line.

From this point on everything the Redskins did was wrong. Pass interceptions led to Chicago touchdowns and a fumble on the goal line, recovered by the gigantic Jack Torrance, meant another score.

Stoughton, Canton Best Of Friends

The athletic relationships between Stoughton and Canton High, which have been so friendly over a period of 15 years, will continue to remain so.

There is not any truth to the report that Stoughton authorities told Canton that if it did not play football last Saturday future football relationships would cease between the two schools.

Stoughton High authorities let it be known today that they have never considered any break with Canton, and intend to continue their close relationship with their old rival.

Canton High officials also emphasized the friendly feelings existing between the two schools.

Stoughton has had a successful football season despite the loss to Canton on Saturday by the close score of 6 to 0.

The football field for Saturday's game was in fair condition and fit for a game.

Record Maine Deer Kill Seen

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 9 (AP)—An all-time high in Maine's deer kill for 1940 was indicated today when Fish and Game Commissioner George J. Stobie said a checkup by wardens showed that 22,122 of the white-tails were shot—approximately 3000 more than last year. "This total," Stobie said, "probably is quite accurate, but we will

LEAHY EXPECTS B. C. IN TOP FORM FOR SUGAR BOWL GAME WITH VOLS

By BILL GRIMES

After a one-week lay off, the Boston College Eagles, who face Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans on New Year's Day, were to report for practice to Head Coach Frank W. Leahy today at The Heights.

"I hope the players are feeling better than I am," declared Leahy this morning, while scanning his mail in the coaches' dressing room.

"Between testimonial banquets and traveling hither and yon, I feel as if I was going to buckle.

"That was a tough league we played in last week, and it probably took more out of us than the Georgetown, Auburn and Holy Cross game."

EARLY START HELPS

Leahy was in a huddle with his assistants this morning. Johnny Druze, who spent his hours of absence at his home in Irvington, N. J., returned last night, and Joe McCardle pulled out of Lowell at an early hour to keep the appointment. Old reliable Ed McKee also was very much on the job as usual.

"We have a very tough assignment facing us," declared Leahy when queried on the outcome of the Sugar Bowl game, "and, sad to relate, we haven't much time to get ready.

"As you know," he went on, "we play the Vols three weeks from Wednesday. A blizzard such as struck here a year ago, when we were preparing for the Cotton Bowl game with Clemson, would ruin our chances of victory.

"I'm certainly pleased that the authorities here at the College have agreed to allow us to start for Bay St. Louis next week. Ten days at St. Stanislaus College will be of the greatest benefit, providing, of course, the practice field is solid soil and not sandy.

"During my spare moments since the Holy Cross game, I've spent considerable time studying Tennessee's style of play. I've been fortunate in having some close friends, who've followed the Vols this season.

"They have conveyed to me valuable data concerning Major Bob Neyland's boys. From what I've gathered Tennessee is good, very good.

"Naturally I'm not making any predictions as to the outcome of the game. But I will say that Boston College, unless I'm badly mistaken will be in better mental condition for the New Year's Day clash than it was when it faced Holy Cross.

MENTAL HANDICAP

"The players were under terrific pressure going into the Holy Cross game. They'd beaten no less than nine opponents, including such outstanding teams as Tulane, Temple, Georgetown and Auburn.

"There were scareheads in all of the newspapers that B. C. was headed for the Rose Bowl, the Sugar Bowl and that this and that player couldn't miss All-America honors.

"The players are just boys. They weren't accustomed to headlines and feature stories. So, naturally, they read as many as they chanced to see. If they missed any, some student or alumnus would make it a point to call their attention to the other laudatory tales, which came off the presses.

IN TULANE FORM

"Therefore, when they went out on the playing field at Fenway Park to meet the Crusaders, the players' minds were not concentrated on Holy Cross, they were thinking in terms of All America honors and bowl games. And, there was nothing I could do about it.

"And because their minds were divided, the Eagles received a strenuous going over from the Crusaders.

"The Sugar Bowl game is a post-season tilt. It will be a battle between the only undefeated and undefeated major eleven in the South and the North.

"The traditions, which go hand in hand with every Boston College-Holy Cross game, will not be in evidence, so the pressure should be less, and I believe that with nothing on their minds other than a victory over Tennessee, Boston College will play a brand of football comparable to that which it did last September against the Tulane 'Greenies.'

"But, in order to do that," Leahy concluded, we must have the local weatherman singing 'For Boston' until we depart for Mississippi, one week from Wednesday."

'Ice-Capades' Off for Quebec

"Ice-Capades of 1941," which completed a successful five-day stay in Boston, entrained today for Quebec where it will fulfill a week's engagement.

Following the stay there, the musical ice company moves on to the Montreal Forum for another week's showing and then heads back across the border to Springfield, Mass.

The ice carnival, sponsored by rink managers of the East, played to more than 43,000 spectators during the seven performances at the Garden, five evenings and two matinees.

Lois Dworschak, the Duluth, Minn., college girl who introduced rhythm on skates, completely stole the Sabbath evening performance which drew 10,000 paying customers.

Bruins Fly to Boston After Chicago Defeat

Boston Bruins arrive at the East Boston airport early tonight and they won't look very happy as they go to their respective hotels.

They were flying this p. m. from Chicago where they were defeated by the Hawks, 3-2, in overtime, and bumped out of third place in the process. The night before they lost to Toronto.

Today they were in fourth place in the league standings with the Hawks one point above them. Tomorrow they face the Rangers at the Garden and if they lose that one they'll sink to fifth place, inasmuch as the Rangers are now only one point behind.

The Chicago defeat was a heart breaker because the Bruins came from behind in the third period to tie the count at 2-all.

Less than three minutes remained in the extra session when Cully Dahlstrom, assisted by Joe Cooper and John Chad, scored the winning tally. A crowd of 16,412, largest of the season, attended.

Half way through the opening stanza Woody Dumart put Boston into a 1 to 0 lead with an unassisted goal, but at 18:30 Dahlstrom tied the game up. Johnny Gottselig and Quaid were credited with assists.

Doug Bentley, with his brother, Max, and Bill Thoms collaborating, gave the Hawks a 2 to 1 lead late in the second period. The Hawks remained ahead until 3:17 of the third period, when Des Smith again tied the score. Flash Holtzman and Herb Cain gave assists.

Tonight's game was the first of the year for the veteran Gottselig, who has been in the role of coach.

Red Sox Bid For Pytlak

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (INS)—The advance guard of American and National Baseball League owners and managers arrived in Chicago today in preparation for the opening of the annual winter meetings, which will get under way officially at noon tomorrow.

Because of the dearth of actual major league trading at the minor league session in Atlanta, Ga., last week, all indications pointed to extensive swapping deals this week. Few of the managers and owners already on the scene expressed themselves as being satisfied with the playing strength of their teams.

Boston's Red Sox were on the hunt for a catcher, and had their eye on Frankie Pytlak of Cleveland.

Del Baker, manager of the Detroit Tigers, came to Chicago with the expressed hope that the American League will rescind its ruling which bars the league champion from trading with other teams.

Olympics Top Rovers, 5 to 2

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Scoring four times in the third period, the Boston Olympics trounced the injured New York Rovers 5-2 in an Eastern Amateur Hockey League game before 13,500 spectators.

The Rovers scored the first tally of the afternoon when Larry Sharest netted the disc in 7:33 of the second period. Boston matched this with a marker by John Fitzgerald before the session ended. From there on it was all Boston. Gerry Desrosiers paced the attack with two goals, Bob Jeremiah and Paul Guilford notched the other pair. "Red" Tilson accounted for the second Rovers tally five minutes before the game ended.

In a preliminary game, Boston's junior Olympics suffered a setback by the New York Exchange Brokers, 4-2.
